American Troops Told to Defend Citizens in China

Ordered to Guard U. S. Interests and Keep Railroad Open

CALL VOLUNTEERS

Business Men Start to Drill to Reinforce Garrison

Tientsin—(AP)—North China's 29th army today withdrew the majority of her troops from the Wanping-shien battle zone, ten miles west of Peiping, under the menacing guns and watchful guard of Japanese infantry.

The Chinese began evacuation in accordance with a new agreement to end the North China crisis, precipitated upon withdrawal by Japanese troops also.

The 14,000 Japanese troops in the area, however, held to their positions. Machine gunners manned trenches overlooking Wanping-shien throughout the day, and main batteries behind the lines trained howitzers on the town.

A secondary line of batteries faced north toward Peiping, where reinforcements might come should the 29th army halt its evacuation and decide to fight.

"Both Sides Suspicious" Chinese said the latest peace agreement was shadowed by "both sides being suspicious of the other's intentions."

Some Chinese believed the Japanese would push into the demilitarized zone and take control of the Peiping-Hankow railroad.

The Japanese today worked to strengthen positions to the east and south of Peiping, erecting earth works, trenches and barbed wire. Trucks sped along the front with munitions from Fengtai, field headquarters. They were camouflaged with tree branches, and soldiers wore steel hats covered by leaves.

The 15th United States infantry was ordered to stand by under full war packs today to defend the American citizens and interests and keep open the railroad to the eastern seaport of Chinwangtao as tension between China and Japan flared into new fighting.

The United States consulate urged all able-bodied American men to form a volunteer corps to reinforce the garrison the army maintains here to protect American interests. Business men immediately began to drill.

The American action, indicating the gravity of the situation, came as the Japanese brigade commander southwest of Peiping threatened "against and more deadly blows" against the Chinese.

Similar steps to protect their nationals were taken by British, French and Italian authorities after reports were received that two American women had been shoved and kicked by Japanese sentries on guard before the embassy in Peiping.

Plane Drops Bomb Foreign divide from Shunghfu, south of Peiping, reported a Japanese plane flew over the city Sunday afternoon and dropped a bomb in a northern suburb. One man was killed. Then, the dispatch said, the plane attacked a regular passenger train on the Peiping railroad to Hankow to the south.

The train was said to have been crowded with passengers, including soldiers. Nine persons were reported killed.

The Japanese were considered determined to wipe out the positions held by the 37th Chinese division at

$3,000,000 in Highway Funds Sent to Counties

Madison—(AP)—The secretary of state's office forwarded to the 71 counties today their annual allotment of $3,000,000 for county trunk highway systems. The allotment must be paid each year by statute from the proceeds of gasoline and auto license taxes.

Japanese Embassy Says Soldiers Did Not Kick 2 Women

Peiping—(AP)—Two American women were at odds with the Japanese embassy today on whether Japanese soldiers kicked them or merely "pushed them on their way."

A Japanese embassy spokesman declared an investigation showed Japanese sentries did not use violence in forcing the women to leave the vicinity of the embassy yesterday.

He said the United States embassy presented its view of the situation this morning but made no protest.

The women, Mrs. Helen R. Jones, Detroit, and Miss Carol Lathrop, Washington, D. C., told United States officials that the guards kicked and shoved them.

Japanese sources, however, said the lieutenant in charge of the Japanese embassy guard said one of the women slipped on wet pavement and fell.

The lieutenant's view was that the women crossed the street and tried to look inside sandbag barricades. He stated that when sentries asked them to leave they refused and the sentries "merely pushed them on their way, doing no more than their duty in protecting Japanese military secrets."

Rebel Forces Regain Hill in Madrid Drive

Advance on Government Salient From Three Directions

BATTLE CONTINUES

Loyalist Troops Retain Other Strategic Posts Near Capital

Madrid—(AP)—Insurgent forces, struggling to plug a hole gouged in their lines west of Madrid by General Jose Miaja's offensive, surged on the government salient from three directions today.

Their massed drive wrested a strategic hill from Miaja's militia—"Peak 660" from which they dominated Villanueva de la Canada, a battle-scarred village about 15 miles west of Madrid and one of the early prizes of the government's two-week campaign.

The government acknowledged loss of the peak after three days of insurgent counter-attack but asserted it still held Valdemoro and Villanueva del Pardillo, at the mouth of the "pocket" which Madrid's "militias" cut into the flank of the eight and one-half month old siege lines on the capital's western front.

With the "pocket" the government still held Qujorras, Brunete and Villanueva de la Canada, east of which yesterday's struggle for "Peak 660" centered.

Threat For Rebels Miaja's salient extends southward and completion of its curving sweep back toward Madrid either would trap insurgent siege forces on the western fringe of the city or force their evacuation.

While the automobile in which the desperadoes were attempting to escape a huge network of officers was parked on a highway eight miles northwest of here, the farmers grabbed the guns of their captors and shot them down when they stopped to inspect a tire.

Traxler was shot above the right lung.

The hostages, Frank Trimmer and J. E. Benton, brought the outlaw into law after the shooting.

A short time earlier, Traxler and Tindol were believed to have been trapped in a rough 10-mile area around Caddo, Okla. Boswell is located about 25 miles southwest of Caddo.

Age Pension Movement Not Dead, Founder Says Chicago—(AP)—Terminating his three-year-old pension movement "far from dead," Dr. Francis E. Townsend disclosed today an impending legislative campaign in the various states.

The 68-year-old proponent of a $200-a-month pension for all persons over 60 years old made known his plans in an interview after returning from a tour through six states.

"We are going to start from the grass roots," he said, "by filling petitions with the governors and legislatures of the various states urging enactment of the Townsend plan into law through a constitutional amendment."

He said circulation of the petitions had started in Oregon and California and would be introduced "in the stronghold states of Indiana, Illinois, Ohio and Wisconsin very soon."

Witnesses said a train of four cars was near the top of a "hump" when it stalled and started backward. Passengers gasped, then screamed as the train increased its speed and coursed part way up another incline.

A second train appeared at the crest as the loose cars rocked back and forth at the bottom of the dip, 10 feet from the ground. As terrified passengers stood on seats, tried to scramble to the ground or grasp for supports, the oncoming train plunged into the cars with a sickening crash.

The impact wrecked the rear car of the first train and the front car of the second.

Only three persons were reported seriously injured. Most of the riders, suffering cuts and bruises, were released after treatment at a hospital.

Woman Is Exonerated In Highway Accident Madison—(AP)—A coroner's jury exonerated Mrs. Julius Peterson, 22, De Forest, of blame at an inquest last night into the death of James Metz, 3, killed July 15 when struck by an automobile driven by Mrs. Peterson.

British Cabinet Meets On Neutrality Deadlock London—(AP)—The cabinet was called into session today faced with a new deadlock between Great Britain and Italy over neutrality in the Spanish civil war. The impasse threatened to cause the collapse of the whole non-intervention system.

Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain was reported to have taken a sufficiently serious view of the world situation—with war in Europe and threats of war in the Orient—to "request" all British cabinet ministers not to leave the country.

Ministers who had planned holidays abroad were understood to have cancelled them.

It was considered possible that plans would be made before the summer adjournment of parliament July 30 for both houses to be recalled at short notice for consultation by the government.

British Admiralty Denies Destroyer Halted Submarine

London—(AP)—The British admiralty announced today that a practice charge dropped by the destroyer Wolfhound off Portland, while a German U-boat passed nearby, led to erroneous reports the German boat had been halted.

The (British) Press association had quoted informed sources that the German submarine U-27 was detected off Britain's naval base at Portland on Monday night, that the Wolfhound ordered her to the surface, questioned the commander and then permitted her to proceed.

The admiralty denied this and gave this version of the incident: The Wolfhound was engaged in exercises off the naval base. She dropped a practice charge to signal a British submarine to come to the surface. The German U-27 at the same time was proceeding on a passage past Portland. She continued without incident or in any way becoming involved with the British maneuvers.

The Press association withdrew its version of the admiralty announcement.

Farmers Held as Hostages Shoot Down 2 Outlaws

Pete Traxler Seriously Wounded, Companion Slain in Oklahoma

Boswell, Okla.—(AP)—Fred Tindol, escaped Texas convict, was shot to death and his companion, Peter Traxler, Oklahoma outlaw, was wounded seriously today by two farmers they were holding as hostages.

While the automobile in which the desperadoes were attempting to escape a huge network of officers was parked on a highway eight miles northwest of here, the farmers grabbed the guns of their captors and shot them down when they stopped to inspect a tire.

Traxler was shot above the right lung.

64 Will Face Court in Riot During Strike

Prosecution to be Speeded As Result of Inquest Findings

POLICE ABSOLVED

Strikers and Sympathizers Accused of Conspiracy to Riot

Chicago—(AP)—A verdict of justifiable homicide returned by a coroner's jury at an inquest into the death of 10 men slain in the Memorial day steel strike riot speeded prosecution today of 64 participants in the labor clash.

Six unemployed American members who comprised the jury absolved the police of responsibility for the slayings after hearing testimony for a week and deliberating for 50 minutes yesterday.

Mal Coghlan, assistant state's attorney, said he would push proceedings against the 64 strikers and sympathizers on the basis of evidence developed at the inquest. They were charged with conspiracy to riot, an offense which carries a penalty of one to five years in prison upon conviction.

Each of the riot victims, the jury decided, was slain "by a bullet fired from a gun held in the hand of an unknown police officer."

Jury's Findings The jury's report said the riot started "when a large body of strikers and strike sympathizers numbering approximately 1,500 to 2,000 persons, many of whom were armed with clubs and missiles, attempted to force their way through a police line, apparently intending to enter the plant of the Republic Steel corporation" in South Chicago.

"From the testimony presented we the jury believe this occurrence to be justifiable homicide," the report said.

The verdict drew fire from union leaders and attorneys. Thorlow, counsel for the Illinois district of the United Mine Workers of America and CIO representative at the inquest said:

"Apparently the Republic Steel corporation has a lot of influence—more than the LaFollette senatorial committee. Apparently Chicago looks at the massacre with different eyes than the rest of the world."

Nicholas Fontecoe, district director for the Steel Workers' Organizing Committee, said "we didn't expect any more from that outfit. They kill our people and it's their own court so you couldn't expect them to convict themselves."

Coghlan, who represented the state, called the verdict a just one and said the testimony "showed to a moral certainty that CIO leaders supervised the arming of the mob and planned and incited a violent attack upon the police." He said the strikers "were misled by insane leadership."

Witnesses at the inquest gave conflicting testimony. Some asserted the strikers precipitated the riot by hurling missiles and firing a shot. Others testified the demonstrators only sought to establish a peaceful picket line and that police fired without provocation.

Claims Chicago Police Methods Urged in Strike Washington—(AP)—Stanley W. Switzer, Madison, Ohio, police chief, told the labor relations board today that a Republic Steel corporation official suggested that Massillon police use the same tactics against strikers that Chicago police used Memorial day.

(Ten persons died as a result of the police battle with Republic strike sympathizers in Chicago on Memorial day.)

Switzer was the first witness at the board's hearing on a complaint that Republic had violated the Wagner labor dispute act on July 10, when it shot and killed a worker in an Ohio mill during the recent strikes. John L. Lewis' Steel Workers' Organizing Committee filed the charge.

Switzer said Carl Meyers, Republic district manager, made the suggestion at a conference in Canton, Ohio, on June 9 after telephone wires to the Republic plant in Massillon had been cut.

De Valera Reelected Free State President Dublin—(AP)—Eamon de Valera was reelected president of the Irish Free State today by the new dail (parliament) by a vote of 22 to 32. It will be his third term.

William T. Cosgrave, opposition leader, vigorously opposed the election, contending that the majority of votes cast in the recent general election were against De Valera's policies.

Cosgrave also condemned the new constitution, which severs the last link between the free state and Great Britain, and changes the country's name to Eire (pronounced "air").

The country approved the constitution in election early this month. De Valera's party won 60 places in the dail circuit, lower house, the same number taken by all the other parties together.

Foes of Roosevelt Plan To Offer Bill Limited To Lower U. S. Courts

AT DEMOCRATIC HELM IN SENATE

Alben W. Barkley

Alben W. Barkley

Senator Barkley Elected To Democratic Leadership In Upper House, 38 to 37

Washington—(AP)—Senator Barkley of Kentucky, won the Democratic leadership of the senate today in a close contest. The vote was 38 to 37.

Barkley, who served as assistant to the late leader—Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas—was chosen by the senate's 75 Democrats over Senator Harrison of Mississippi.

Barkley was supported by most friends of the Roosevelt court bill. Harrison had the backing of those against that measure.

The entire caucus took less than an hour. There were no nominations, but a quick secret ballot, Harrison then moved to make the selection unanimous.

Before the meeting broke up Barkley made a brief speech in which he promised to support Democratic policies and work for the nation and the party. He was cheered by his colleagues.

The Democrats then filed by and shook his hand, and the hand of Senator Harrison, who stood smiling at his side.

Hopes For Harmony Speaking into a radio microphone, Barkley expressed his gratitude for the "honor accorded to me" and expressed confidence "we will all be able to work together."

He said the friendly nature of the contest, close though it was, foreshadowed party unity.

The new leader, senators agreed, will have a difficult task trying to reunite the party and straighten out the tangled legislative situation.

President Roosevelt publicly kept his hands off the contest. Both candidates participated in a legislative conference with him last night on the eve of the election.

Checks Police Pistols In Florida Lynching

Tallahassee, Fla.—(AP)—Determined to establish whether police were implicated in the lynching of two Negroes, State's Attorney Orion C. Parker, Jr., today ordered a check of the caliber and serial number of all police pistols.

Parker said only policemen and sheriffs deputies were supposed to know that set of jail keys was kept at police headquarters.

The four marked men who shot the Negroes, Richard Hawkins and Ernest Ponder, to death first compelled Police Sergeant Harry Fairbanks to accompany them from police headquarters and unlock the Negroes' cells. The Negroes were accused of stabbing Patrolman V. K. Kelly, who was in a serious condition today.

Parker Funeral Rites Are Held at Janesville

Janesville—(AP)—Funeral services for George S. Parker, 73, Janesville pen and pencil manufacturer, were conducted this afternoon in Trinity Episcopal church by the Rev. Herman Anker. Stores and other business places were closed all afternoon as a tribute to the city's most prominent citizen. The church was filled to overflowing and many were obliged to stand outside. Burial was in Oak Hill cemetery here.

99-Year Term Urged In 'Scottsboro Case'

Decatur, Ala.—(AP)—A verdict of guilty with a penalty of 99 years imprisonment was returned against Andy Wright today by the tenth jury to sit in judgment of the "Scottsboro case" in six years.

This was the first trial in which the state did not demand death for one of the nine Negroes accused of a gang attack on two white women.

Bilbo's Vote Cost Harrison Election

Washington—(AP)—The vote of his fellow Mississippian, Theodore G. Bilbo, possibly cost Pat Harrison the majority leadership of the senate today.

Senator Alben W. Barkley of Kentucky won over Harrison by a margin of only one vote, 38 to 37. Later, Bilbo, told newspaper men he voted for Barkley.

Bilbo said he voted for Barkley because when the late Majority Leader Robinson was being talked for a supreme court appointment he had promised to support Barkley as Robinson's successor.

"I was therefore committed to Barkley and could not throw him overboard," he said.

St. Louis Browns Release Hornsby

Action "Taken for the Good of the Browns," President Says

St. Louis—(AP)—Donald L. Barnes, president of the St. Louis Browns, today announced that Manager Rogers Hornsby had been relieved of his duties effective today.

Barnes said the action was "taken for the good of the Browns."

The president of the American league baseball club said Hornsby's contract, which ran through the 1938 season, was so written it could be "broken at the discretion of the club."

Jim Bottomley, coach and reserve first baseman, was named acting manager.

Hornsby would not comment on his ouster, declaring, "I have nothing to say."

He added, however, that he had no immediate plans since it was probably too late in the season to make another connection.

The former National league second baseman, who led the circuit in hitting for seven consecutive seasons, became manager of the Browns in 1932, succeeding Wade Kilgus. He has had only mediocre success with the team.

High hopes had been held for this year's squad, under impetus of new owners, led by Barnes, but the team has played poorly all season. It is in seventh place, having won 25 games and lost 32 for an average of .325.

Britain Cancels Plans For Confabs With Japs

London—(AP)—Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told the house of commons today that because of the crisis in North China, Great Britain has cancelled proposed conferences with Japanese officials to improve Anglo-Japanese relations.

"As long as the present situation in North China persists it would not seem opportune to open the conversations to which his majesty's government were looking forward," Eden said.

Ashland—(AP)—Nine-year-old Myrna Mae Kennedy of Mellen, saved Mrs. Willard Dayton, 35, Mellen, from drowning in the Bad river near here yesterday when Mrs. Dayton suffered a heart attack and sank in 14 feet of water. Compromise Measure Won't Involve More Supreme Justices

Wheeler Makes Announcement After Confab With Garner

Washington—(AP)—Senator Wagner (D-N.Y.) told Governor Lehman of New York in a letter today he would "follow the dictates of my own conscience" in deciding how to vote on the supreme court issue.

Washington—(AP)—Late in the afternoon, Senator Borah (R-Idaho) issued the following statement on the supreme court fight after conferring with Senator Wheeler of Wyoming:

"I am sure that no compromise can be made, or even be considered, which surrenders in the slightest degree the principle of an independent judiciary. Anything which looks like political control of the courts, either the higher courts or the lower courts, is not contemplated by the opponents."

Washington—(AP)—Senator Wheeler (D-Mont.) after a conference with Vice President Garner today, said opponents of the Roosevelt court bill would draft a compromise dealing only with the lower courts and submit it to the administration. Supreme court enlargement would not be involved.

The significant conference between Garner and Wheeler took place in the Montana senator's office at the same time as Senator Barkley of Kentucky, the new Democratic senator leader, and Senator Harrison of Mississippi, his defeated opponent, were at the White House for luncheon with the president.

After his conference with Garner, Wheeler said he was going to call opponents of the court bill together to "see if we can work out a proposal" for reform in the lower courts, and submit it to the administration for their consideration.

He would not disclose the nature of his conference with Garner, but it appeared that the move to draft a new bill was made at the vice president's suggestion.

First Hint of Action Earlier reports of a possible drastic modification of the administration's court measure spread among senators simultaneously with the election of Barkley to be the new Democratic leader.

Wheeler's statement was the first hint that the foes of the bill would submit an alternative for the presidential program.

The foes said, that administration leaders had agreed to lay aside the pending court bill until next week to give them a chance to work out another bill. Later, they said, it will be decided whether to send the administration bill back to the committee or make the substitution on the floor.

Wheeler told reporters flatly there was no doubt his group had enough votes to recommit the present bill. He served notice they would agree to no compromise which would increase the size of the supreme court.

The opposition leader said his group was willing to work out some reform legislation for the lower courts, to speed action, and permit direct appeals to the supreme court in constitutional cases, but was opposed to "roving judges," or the proposed proctor to recommend their assignment.

Up to Garner There were other rumors, equally unconfirmed, in administration quarters, that the president had given Vice President Garner broad discretion to settle the court dispute in the best way he can.

Senator Brown (D-Mich.) said today he and several associates were urging that President Roosevelt "take the leadership" in suggesting a new compromise court reorganization plan. He said he "preferred" that any new proposal be

Thompson Quits Board; Mahoney To Succeed Him

Alderman's Resignation From Vocational School Is Accepted

The resignation of Charles D. Thompson from the board of vocational education was accepted by the board of education with one dissenting vote cast by Dr. George T. Hegner during a meeting in Lincoln school last evening. Richard W. Mahoney, associated with the Appleton Coated Paper Co., was appointed to fill the unexpired term. Dr. Hegner voted against accepting the resignation after charging "dirty politics" fostered by "peanut politicians." Mr. Thompson, who was secretary of the board and an alderman from the Second ward at the same time, declared in his letter of resignation "I do not feel I should continue to hold the office if there is the slightest question of legality."

Served 25 Years
He said he had never considered the two positions incompatible but occasional criticism and a recent threat of legal action prompted his decision. Members of the board adopted a resolution commending Mr. Thompson for his 25 years of continuous service on the board. The board voted to change its weekly meetings from Tuesday evenings to 7:30 Wednesday evenings during the time the new senior high school is under construction. A sub-contract for the Viking Automatic Sprinkling Co., Chicago, was approved for installation of a sprinkler system in the auditorium unit and an additional $219.50 for plumbing work was approved. The Appleton Women's club was granted use of the high school auditorium for an educational program in October. Because the bleachers stored in the army are to be repaired and painted, a request from the park board for their use at Wednesday night programs in Pierce park was denied.

State Museum Receives Big Copper Spearpoint
Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—The State Historical Museum has announced the acceptance of one of the largest copper Indian spearpoints found in Wisconsin in recent years, the gift of Frank M. Neu of Madison.

The relic was found in an Indian site on the bank of Little River, a tributary of the Wolf River near Fremont in Waupaca county. The spear point is more than eight inches in length, and it is valuable, museum attendants explained, because it helps to explain local Indian cultures of the pre-historic era. The Wisconsin Archeological society has been urging such gifts to the museum.

Bear Creek Villagers Seeking Branch Bank

Bear Creek—Petitions, seeking establishment of a branch of the First State Bank of New London in this village, were being circulated here today. If enough signers are secured, the villagers will apply to the state banking department to set up the branch bank. Meetings were held here in the last three weeks seeking support of the villagers and A. L. Severance, executive vice president of the New London bank, addressed one of the meetings. He urged citizens to survey the situation and secure enough support before making application for the branch with the state banking department.

LaFollette Not Sure if He Can Attend Carnival

Fremont Delegation to Receive His Decision in Near Future

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—Whether Governor LaFollette and George W. Norris, United States senator from Nebraska, will attend the Fremont water carnival at Fremont July 31 and August 1 remained uncertain today.

Governor LaFollette Tuesday told a delegation representing the Fremont Chamber of Commerce, promoter of the carnival, that a prior engagement at Des Moines, Iowa on July 31 will make it difficult for him to be in Fremont the following day. The governor promised the committee, including Allan H. Tripp, Vern Ives and Raymond Zuehlke, that he would wire his decision soon.

According to Ives the carnival committee had planned to ask Senator Norris, veteran independent legislator who is vacationing at his Waupaca cottage, to attend the event with Governor LaFollette. Since it seemed doubtful that the governor would appear, the delegation yesterday afternoon planned to invite either Theodore Dammann, secretary of state, or Sol Levitan, state treasurer.

Ives declared here that the carnival this year will be the biggest ever staged in the community and anticipated an attendance of 15,000.

Take Bids for 3rd Time On Police Motorcycle

Bids are being taken by the city for the third time on a motorcycle for the police department. They must be filed with the city clerk by Tuesday, July 27. Because only one bid was entered on each of the two previous occasions, they were refused. Equipment to go with the machine must include a speedometer, spill guards, leg shields, wind shield, siren and first aid kit.

Praises Cooperation Between Sportsmen, Board

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau Madison—Wisconsin's system of cooperation between sportsmen and the state conservation department in the promulgation of fish and game regulations "is the most perfect illustration of democracy that it is possible to find," R. H. Fischer, Shawano, secretary of the state conservation commission, told 300 delegates from all over the state who are meeting here to tell the conservation department staff what kind of hunting and fishing rules they want for the ensuing year.

"I am impressed particularly with the unselfishness and the sincere spirit of those who have come here in the interests of conservation," said Fischer, who was appointed to the commission three weeks ago by Governor LaFollette.

Unselfish Workers
The commission, he said, consists of unselfish public servants who are attempting to promote a bigger and better hunting and fishing program for the state.

Every Wisconsin county was represented at the meeting. Eligible to represent Outagamie county sportsmen were Anton Reith, Kaukauna, R. A. Benz, Appleton, and Richard Reyer, Seymour, delegates, and M. J. Verfurth, Kaukauna, and Oscar Sommers, Appleton, alternates. Waupaca county: Guy Mumbree, Waupaca, Carl Abraham, Fremont, and L. J. Polaskie, New London, delegates, and George Stevens, Clintonville, and M. J. Heins, New London, alternates.

5-DAY SEASON

Madison—(7)—In Wisconsin will have a 5-day deer hunting season beginning Nov. 28 if the conservation commission follows the recommendation of county game committees.

The committee chairmen voted overwhelmingly last night to break a 12-year precedent of legalizing deer hunting only in alternate years. Sixty voted for an open season, nine opposed it, and two were absent or not voting.

The 25 counties in which hunting was permitted last fall were tentatively designated as open territory again this fall. State wardens and other observers from those counties reported the deer crop was exceptionally large.

Deputy Conservation Commissioner Ernest Swift sounded the sentiment of the department when he told the sportsmen it would be better to let the hunters get the deer than have the animals die of starvation. Surveys indicate, he said, there will be a lack of winter forage.

Opposes Season
Mrs. Edward A. LaBude of Milwaukee, only woman chosen to serve on the statewide committee, opposed the open season on the ground the value of deer as an ant-

State Ranks 23rd In Number Getting Old Age Benefits

Number Receiving Aid and Amount Paid Show Increases

Post-Crescent Washington Bureau Washington—Wisconsin ranked twenty-third in the country in the proportion of those receiving old age benefits in May out of every thousand population over 65, according to the Social Security Board.

Forty-two states reported old age assistance figures for the month. Oklahoma was first with more than half of those in the eligible age group receiving assistance.

Wisconsin's old age benefits during May reached 3 per cent more people than the month before and the amount of payments increased 9 per cent. According to the board, 35,956 persons over 65 years of age in the Badger state received a total of $696,873 in May, an average of about $19.37 per person. It is figured that out of every 1,000 persons of this age group, 169 were receiving old-age benefits during May.

The amount of payments to families with needy children decreased 3 per cent in May, according to the report, although the number of families aided increased 1 per cent.

During the month, 9,040 families were given aid amounting to $238,114. Out of every thousand children under sixteen years of age, 24 were aided by social security during May.

Public assistance to the blind decreased slightly. In May, 1,982 needy blind of 68 out of every 100 persons received aid amounting to $42,995. This represents a decrease of 6 per cent in number of blind compared with April.

A hearing on the compensation claim of William Vandenberg, Outagamie county motorcycle officer who died more than a year ago, against Outagamie county, was launched by L. B. Retelle, Wisconsin Industrial commission examiner, at the city hall this morning.

Waupaca—A carload of poison to be used in the extermination of grasshoppers was received by the County Agent George F. Massey's office Tuesday afternoon, according to George F. Massey, agent.

The bait, a sodium arsenite, will be mixed with sawdust—any kind except green sawdust from evergreen trees—then the cheapest of cane molasses, (the cattle molasses known as "black strap") will be added to keep the bait moist for a longer period of time. This also acts as a binder for the poison and makes the bait more attractive to the grasshoppers. Only enough water is added to moisten the bait.

The bait is applied just before or at the beginning of the first general feeding period in the morning, usually from about 6 to 9 o'clock a. m. At this time the hoppers are largely confined to the surface of the ground, whereas later in the day and at night they tend to climb vegetation upon which to feed and rest.

The twelve mixing stations set up throughout the county are in the townships of Farmington, Jola, Little Wolf, Dupont, Scandinavia, Harrison, Wyoming, Dupont, Larabee, Matteson, Union, Bear Creek and Lebanon. Farmers who need grasshopper bait may secure the necessary material by applying to their town chairman.

Not much agitation regarding infestation has been reported to the county agent's office during the last few days, due likely to the cutting of the grain and its removal from damage.

Girls Team Wins Double Header At New London

Defeat Kaukauna Squad, 33 to 5; Trounce Waupaca, 5 to 4

New London—Appearing trim and snappy in their new blue and gold uniforms, the Waupaca Bowley girls last night upheld their softball reputation by defeating two outside girls teams in an unexpected double-header. Through a misunderstanding a St. Mary's team from Kaukauna appeared at the field and were trounced 33 to 5 in a merry-go-round affair after the regular Waupaca Bratwurst girls had been nosed out, 5 to 4, when their rally fell short in an exciting last inning.

With both teams playing tight ball-and-pitchers evenly matched, the New London girls held an uncertain edge until the last Waupaca girl was put down in the seventh inning. The local club scored in the first inning on a double by Alice DeYoung and the invaders made it up in the third when Harris reached base on an error and Jensen pounded a double. In the next inning the candy girls again took the lead when the Waupaca pitcher walked Evelyn Steidl for her only gift base of the game.

Sawall Hits Homer
Ruth Sawall started a 3-run scoring streak in the sixth inning with a home run. Van Stratton singled and Steidl gained bases again on one of the few errors and both runners were pushed around the circuit before the side retired.

Waupaca came back strong in the first of the last inning when E. Ryan opened with a double. M. Ryan singled and Jameson followed with another double. All three scored but Van Stratton pitched her way out of the predicament with two pop flies and then fanned the last batter. The New London pitcher also walked only one and whiffed nine to six strikeouts for the Waupaca tosser.

Only half the regular Kaukauna St. Mary's team appeared on the field. It was the first attempt at baseball for some and the first night game for all resulting in some hey-day softball. The New London girls batted all around two and a half times in the second inning for 20 runs on 11 hits while the visitors garnered only one hit during the game. The one-sided tilt was called at five innings.

Kaukauna girls who showed were Nyles, Vils, Burke, O'Connor, Thompson, VanDenzen, Schmidt, Kofler, Kalupe, Welhouse and Smith. Friday night the New London girls go to Amherst and Sunday afternoon will meet the Gordon Bent Sports at Green Bay.

Waupaca County Board Is Requested to Buy Part of River Pines Sanatorium

Waupaca—Dr. T. L. Harrington, superintendent of the River Pines Sanatorium, Portage county, addressed the Waupaca county board Tuesday morning at an adjourned meeting from May 5, in an attempt to interest the board in purchase of a share in that institution.

Since 1932 county cases have been treated at River Pines and according to law, it is necessary that it should be a non-profit sharing institution. Stock of River Pines is owned by a considerable number of share holders—the majority by two widows who are in need of some return on the investment. No stockholder has received any dividend since 1932.

The institution must be closed to county cases and take only private patients; it may be sold to a religious organization which have a large number of members and who want a sanatorium for the care and treatment of the tuberculous sick, or the institution may be sold to one or more counties.

Dr. Harrington stated that if the sanatorium is closed, the county judge and county nurse will be obliged, as was the case prior to 1932, to place Waupaca county patients in other institutions a considerable distance from home.

Dr. Harrington, who recently came from Milwaukee to River Pines to succeed Dr. H. M. Coons, appointed director of the state sanatorium at Statesboro, was accompanied by W. F. Collins, chairman of the Portage county board, who spoke briefly regarding the advantages of having the sanatorium owned jointly by Portage, Wood and Waupaca counties. The price asked for the institution is $75,000. It will accommodate 61 patients; these facilities might be enlarged to provide for at least 72 patients, by providing nurses quarters in the residence formerly occupied by the late Dr. John Coon.

Committee Named
L. W. Eastling, chairman of the Waupaca county board, appointed Supervisors Charles Bender of Clintonville, A. G. Arndt, town of Big Falls, and Herman Werth, town of Union, the committee which will confer with one appointed in Portage county, and with one of Wood county when that board meets July 30. Mr. Collins will address the Wood county board at that time on the matter of a tri-county ownership of the institution.

Waupaca has between 40 and 50 patients in sanatoriums outside the city, the total cost varying from $1,365 to $1,995 a week, and while the state is supposed to be paying $7 a week on each patient, it is actually paying, but $6.63, making an average of $600, each, a year, or a cost to the county of at least $25,000 a year. In other words, while the state pays 40 per cent, the county pays 60 per cent.

The fact that Waupaca reported more tuberculosis patients last year was considered laudatory, in that other counties are negligent in such reports. Waupaca had 10 deaths during the last year, Portage nine, and Wood county seven.

Miss Estelle B. Jung, county nurse, announced to the board that one teacher out of 46 has active tuberculosis. Where ordinarily the positive tuberculin rate among grade children is between 5 and 6 per cent, where teachers are found tuberculous the rate is as high as 40 per cent. The children do not necessarily have tuberculosis, but they have had lesions which have healed, healing likely due to the fact that they were in good physical condition when exposed.

The board authorized the expenditure of $500 to carry on tuberculin tests to be followed by X-Rays in positive cases.

Talks on Gopher

Dr. Marshall Boudry announced to the board that we are living in a gopher belt, that there is not enough iodine in the soil and consequently not enough in vegetables with the result that a high percentage of school children are afflicted with simple goiters. By supplying iodine in an inexpensive form, approximately 7 to 8 cents a child a year, many of these goiters can be prevented. For these iodine tablets the board made an appropriation of $500.

Supervisor S. J. Danielson of the public property committee reported that the wiring in both the courthouse and the jail is in bad condition, bare wires to be found in some places in the jail. Approximately $800 will be needed to get the wiring to conform to the state code, and while it was not necessary to pass a resolution providing for repairing the committee wishes an expression of opinion of members of the board. The board was unanimously in favor of having the work done in the near future.

The purchase of fire-proof files for the pension department and the service officers department was also authorized by the board at the suggestion of the public property committee.

A resolution was adopted authorizing for sale the tax certificates on the Weyauwega Milling company.

County Clerk L. J. Stelger spoke briefly at the close of the session on the work being carried on by his office and the special pauper committee, the chairman of which is P. C. Jensen, town of Farmington. He announced that word had been received from the Winnebago county board that they would allow all bills due Waupaca, but would not pay until Waupaca had paid its bills. A statement was included but according to Supervisor Jensen these may not all prove to belong to Waupaca when legal settlement is determined by the industrial commission.

The amount Winnebago county owes Waupaca is $300, while the various municipalities of Waupaca county are indebted to Winnebago county for $2,111.33.

KICKED BY JAPANESE

Carol Lathrop (above), of Washington, was one of two American women reported as having been kicked and shoved by Japanese sentries on guard before the Japanese embassy in Peking. The other victim said "Carol burst into tears, then the sentry kicked her in the side."

Mails Out Data About Inspection of Farms

Waupaca—County Agent George F. Massey has reported that his office completed the mailing of cards to farmers Monday whereby they can request their farm inspected and check up on payments due them on the 1937 agricultural conservation program.

These cards are to be returned immediately so the farm can be visited as early as possible. It is also necessary to have a map of the farm in readiness for use of the inspector, before the visit will be made. No visits will be permitted until the cards are returned.

One man from each township, or for each 100 farms, will be selected as a committeeman to make the inspections. There are 3,500 farms in the county working under this program.

Junior Boys Eke Out 4 to 3 Win Over Weyauwega Team

New London—The Junior boys softball team of the Washington High school playground recreational league last night defeated a similar Weyauwega team 4 to 3 in the second victory over that team with a week. The 5-inning game was played under lights at Weyauwega.

The contest entered the final inning tied at 3-all and after holding the entertaining team to nothing in the first half of the frame, a single run clinched the victory for the New London boys. They scored three runs on four hits in the third inning and then with a spasm of poor fielding in the next frame let the Weyauwega lads regain the same three runs on only one solid hit, a single.

Glen Beckert pitched a 2-hit game for the invaders and Ralph Holliday led the hitting with a 2-bagger and a single though he never scored himself. Calvin Zernicke gathered two singles in the eighth hits returned by his teammates.

On the team were Kenneth Barlow who scored the winning run, Zernicke, Holliday, James Bodoh, Robert Seering, Louis Stern, Leroy Rogers, William Brown, Norbert Humblet, and Beckert. Playing for Weyauwega were Frost, Prentice, McCarthy, Grant Zernicke, pitcher, Swanson, Tassin, McDonald, Wall, A. Swanson, Redfield.

Builds Model Auto, Wins State Honors

New London—First prize and $100 in cash was awarded to John Calef, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. N. Calef of this city, for his modern model car which he entered in the Wisconsin competition of the annual model-building contest of the Fisher Body Craftsman Guild of Detroit.

The first prize in the state also entitles him to a free trip to the guild convention at Detroit in August. Fourteen cash awards totaling $3,250 are made in each state beside the convention trips.

The winning solid wood model of an ultra-modern auto of original design was Calef's first attempt at such competition. He started the model as a manual training project in high school last winter.

Crystal Lake Grange Hears Talk on Safety

Waupaca—C. A. Holmes, assistant engineer of the highway division, located at Wisconsin Rapids, gave a talk on "Safety" Tuesday evening at the Crystal Lake Grange. Walter L. Olen, chairman of the Waupaca County Safety Council, was to have delivered the talk, but was unable to be present. The program was to have included a showing of safety films, but due to the fact that only gas lights are used in the Grange Hall, it was impossible to show the films. They will, however, be used at a meeting Wednesday evening at the Royal Grange hall when Mr. Olen will be the speaker.

Complete Relief Report

Alderman Emans of the relief committee and Stewart explained the new set-up in the relief department as patterned after the system at Kaukauna. The first complete detailed report of relief expenditures was made available to each member of the council last night. The report listed the names of each person and members of the family on relief with the amount received by each and for what expended.

The full report will be made to the aldermen each month and a duplicate will be kept on file at the relief offices, open to inspection by the public at any time. The council approved the new schedule of office hours for the relief department with half the time to be spent in actual investigation of cases.

Leonard Frolic, Floyd Dudley and Gust Krueger of this city were granted tavern operators licenses.

The application of H. J. Shere and Arthur Douthier of Menasha for a Class B retailer's license was denied on recommendation of the chief of police based on the operators' records at Menasha.

City Attorney Putnam reported that recopying of the city ordinances was nearly completed and that steps should be taken to remove a great many of the old laws which do not apply today. The finance committee was appointed by the mayor to study the obsolete ordinances and report at the next meeting. The committee also was asked to investigate possible savings on insurance on city trucks through a blanket policy.

On Putnam's recommendation the council authorized the peeling of the Hatten Memorial park against the use of firearms in that area for the protection of squirrels and birds from irresponsible young hunters.

Relief Director To Do Buying for City Under Plan

Council Appoints M. J. Stewart as Purchasing Agent

New London—In addition to his duties as relief director, M. J. Stewart last night was authorized by the common council to act as city purchasing agent, with certain restrictions. Needs of all city departments must be submitted to him to investigate the best possible prices on the material required and purchases made on his recommendation. Any expenditure over $25 must be referred to the common council.

The council also authorized his signature on relief department checks and gave him the authority to enter homes of relief clients to investigate their needs.

The relief situation in New London and the matter of placing the city purchasing job occupied the greater part of the council at its regular meeting. William Lipke acted as purchasing agent when he was relief director and several aldermen, headed by William Litts, felt that the broadened work of the relief office would make the purchasing job too much of an interfering burden. Litts suggested that the chairman of each committee be responsible but other aldermen wanted a central office for such transactions.

Springmire, Meating and Litts voted against the authorization. Harold Pieper brought the long-winded discussion to a head by introducing the motion.

Alderman Emans of the relief committee and Stewart explained the new set-up in the relief department as patterned after the system at Kaukauna. The first complete

The full report will be made to the aldermen each month and a duplicate will be kept on file at the relief offices, open to inspection by the public at any time. The council approved the new schedule of office hours for the relief department with half the time to be spent in actual investigation of cases.

See Lehman Letter As Turning Point In Court Battle

Graceful Retreat May be in Progress, Lawrence Reports

BY DAVID LAWRENCE
Washington—Governor Lehman's letter opposing the president's plan to "pack" the supreme court continues the sensation of the hour. The White House attitude is one of ill-concealed discomfiture.

The congress recognizes the New York governor's communication as a turning point in the whole controversy.

Whatever else may be said on the surface, the inner circumstances tend to create the impression that a graceful retreat is in process of being formulated by friends of the president with his knowledge, consent and encouragement.

There are enough votes to recommit the so-called substitute for the original court bill, but even the opponents of the president's plan realize that this does not satisfactorily dispose of the matter. There are some aspects of judicial reform, particularly with reference to procedure in the lower courts, they think which ought to be tackled.

It would seem, therefore, as if an agreement might be reached to lay aside the substitute court bill and arrange for the appointment of a sub-committee of the judiciary committee to begin study of a new bill, this to be reported at the January session of congress.

Possible selection of Senator Harrison of Mississippi as majority leader was considered to be an integral part of the plan, for he could bring the Democrats into some sort of agreement on such a procedure. In other words, it kills the "packing" scheme and bestows on Mr. Roosevelt the satisfaction of having his "objectives" still on the calendar for consideration in the indefinite future.

Roosevelt Casual
The political implications of what has happened are, however, not so easily erased from the picture. The White House has endeavored to spread the impression that the Lehman letter was neither a surprise nor a bombshell. Mr. Roosevelt himself adopted a casual attitude toward it. Again he amazed the correspondents on Tuesday afternoon by saying he had not read it all and that he had seen just a few excerpts which came over the news ticker in his office the preceding day.

From this one is to infer that Mr. Roosevelt wants the correspondents to believe that he either does not have time to read the newspapers or that he regards a communication as important as Governor Lehman's really as a mere incident in the day's routine.

Other spokesmen of the president, however, gave the impression that the Lehman letter was timed in such a way as to cause some uneasiness. As a matter of fact, it could not have come at a more opportune moment from the standpoint of the opposition to the president's plan. Another friend of the president professed to see a reason for the Lehman letter in the last paragraph of the communication which read as follows:

"This bill, however, I believe to be contrary to their interests. Its enactment would create a greatly dangerous precedent which could be availed of by future less well-intentioned administrations for the purpose of oppression or for the curtailment of the constitutional rights of our citizens."

Reference Unexplained
This particular member of the administration called attention to the use of the word "oppression" as if to imply that it had some special significance in relation to Governor Lehman's possible motive for writing the letter. The reference was not explained, but it might be that an effort is being made to explain away the Lehman letter on the ground that it was motivated by consideration for the minority groups in America—Catholics and Jews—who have always been alert to oppose any measures which might seem to constitute any dangers, actual or potential, to the freedom of religion. New York state has an unusually large number of Catholic and Jewish voters and it would be natural, of course, for a governor to reflect the wishes of a substantial number of his constituents.

It remains a mystery why this in any way lessens the value of the Lehman letter, unless it was intended to point out that Mr. Lehman was under pressure from his constituents.

There has been some comment hereabouts that maybe the Lehman letter was made public as a means of simplifying the reversal by Senator Wagner of the position toward the court bill which he is assumed to have taken heretofore. If Senator Wagner, representative to the many aroused citizens in the empire state, wanted to shift ground, the Lehman letter would be the most natural way to help him to do it. The governor pointed out that he did not write as the chief executive of a state but only as an individual citizen, who has the right, of course, to appeal to the senators on matters of federal legislation.

Showed Courage
Mr. Lehman could have written to Senator Copeland, too, which might, on the other hand, have been confused in some way with the New York city political situation. The fact that the governor wrote to Senator Wagner and made his letter public promptly can mean only that the governor wanted to see the court bill beaten and that he had taken his stand with the other five men in the Democratic party who consider that party loyalty ought to stop at the edge of the precipice beyond which lies a breakdown of constitutional government.

It is unfortunate that some thick-skulled supporters of the president here are so ready to criticize Governor Lehman. All government seems to them a personal matter. This has been one of the New Deal weaknesses from the beginning—the feeling that government was a personal affair. Governor Lehman was big enough and brave enough to regard the issues in an impersonal way. It hurt him, no doubt, to do what he did, but the acts of statesmen who are courageous enough to accept the responsibilities of office with them the penalty of criticism by those who follow the politician's creed of personal ambition and expected rewards from party loyalty rather than adherence to fundamental principles of patriotism.

1,449 Acres of Forests Burned In State Fires

496 Blazes Reported Up To June 30 of This Year

Madison — A total of 496 fires burned 1,449 acres up to June 30 of this year, according to a mid-season report of the state forest protection service filed by E. J. Vanderwall, state chief forest ranger.

This total loss in the forest protection districts is estimated at $344. In spite of the decidedly negligible damage to date, the forest protection service is keyed to meet a season of high hazard that may strike Wisconsin at any time under adverse weather conditions.

The report shows that 96.4 per cent of the fires were held to a burn of 10 acres or less.

As usual, careless smokers caused most of the fires. A total of 153 fires were started by dropped smoking material. People clearing land started 127 fires. Other fire causes were as follows: lightning, 11; railroads, 32; campfires, 15; incendiary, 62; logging, 9; miscellaneous, 37.

Smokers accounted for the burn of 377 acres; land clearers, 441 acres; those guilty of incendiary fires, 401 acres; and railroads 115 acres.

None of the burn was on timber land. A total of 633 acres burned were covered by young growth and 826 acres of the land burned are listed as non-forest lands.

Government Doctor Solves Tulip Mystery

Washington —(AP)—"Tulipomania" —a mystery that has puzzled tulip growers for centuries — has been solved by a government scientist.

Tulip blooms often change to fantastic colors and markings, which is called "breaking." Growers long have tried to induce the changes, which are carried on by bulbs.

Dr. Frank P. McWhorter, after five years of experiments in the department of agriculture, says he has been able to accomplish "breaking" by a mixture of two virus infections injected into a healthy plant.

A NATURAL RESULT

Last week representatives from citizens' groups in twelve states met at Pittsburgh to organize against disorder. Emphatically they stressed the fact they are not anti-union and not vigilante. Just as emphatically they might have stressed the fact they are not supporting what unions call strike-breakers.

They are supporting the right of workers to work. That has been the only matter in dispute in a good many localities.

Most of our people will sincerely regret the occasion for an organization which became necessary only because politicians who had been elected to office would not support the laws even though they had the authority to change them. And they would not change them because of an aroused public sentiment.

This national organization justified its creation upon the ground that public officials in certain localities "have failed to use the authority given them as a trust to protect American citizens in their inalienable constitutional rights to work without molestation," and predicated their further action upon the fact that "we can no longer look to certain constituted authorities to protect human constitutional rights," with the obvious and very natural conclusion that "as loyal American citizens we feel our patriotic duty to perfect a nationwide organization whose function it shall be to restore and protect those constitutional rights that have been taken from American citizens by certain unworthy officials."

As we view the ominous spectacle of 12 states finding it necessary to organize to protect men from being slugged and beaten because they would not pay tribute and fealty to Mr. Lewis we should not overlook the fact that the Wagner law, because of the manner in which it was drawn, is the cause of all the trouble.

One hundred men out of 10,000 at a plant may strike and start throwing stones, and if they belong to a sufficiently extensive union, induce others from other places, even those in a different sort of work, to come over and also start throwing stones.

And if anyone in America thinks that this spectacle is liberalism at its best he is badly mistaken. It is the use that has been made of liberalism by those who are not liberals but find it convenient to use the word for their own advantages.

AN AMERICAN AT DETROIT AND MADRID

Some months ago an American youth, Joseph Rosenstein, spoke on the Detroit University campus. His was a flaming speech, urging university students to fight for peace. When he had concluded his remarks he asked those present to take the so-called Oxford pledge, that is to swear a total lack of any concern in defending their country even from attacks.

Then the youth dropped out of sight, but not for long. The latest word from him is that he lies dangerously wounded in a hospital behind the Loyalist lines in Spain. This youth, after attempting to arouse young men not to fight under any conditions, that participation in war was never justified, went over and participated himself.

About the time he was shot an American correspondent in Spain was cabling this country.

"American youths, many of them youngsters under twenty, tonight received a bloody baptism of fire when they waded across the swollen Guadiana river west of Madrid under withering machine gun fire and routed rebel legions. The youths, getting their first taste of war at its worst, were new recruits of the famous international brigade which led the Loyalists in an assault on insurgent positions south of Brunate."

And now, who are these youths? Why have they gone to Spain? Who allows them to go? Why are they fighting?

In a large sense they are deluded youngsters. They have been fooled and widely misled. The splendid spark within their souls that demands human justice has been fired by human falsehood. False Fronts, and all the other chicanery of the Reds, the most adroit defrauders the world has ever known.

And there are other reasons why those boys are in Spain. For youth welcomes danger, and danger produces the professional soldier. Youth is willing to go to war and die for a cause, which makes all the more shameful the construction of a cause where no just cause exists. Yet it isn't the first time that youth, strong, honest and upright, believed some painted hussy, trained in hell, was a virtuous maiden.

There is, of course, an American spirit that can accept and admire youth that braves danger. This spirit has little or no criticism to make of the participants. If youth has erred it has only erred in being fooled and that is not an uncommon trait with youth.

The sad part of the picture is to see these young men destroyed while the rogues who created an imaginary cause to mislead them are in safety some place swilling themselves with port and champagne.

THE PRESIDENT AND DRY ZEALOTS

It would probably hurt Mr. Roosevelt's feelings to be compared to Wayne B. Wheeler and Bishop Cannon of the old Anti-Saloon League but the truth is he is worse.

The Anti-Saloon League hated the supreme court, too. It threatened judges in many states and where they held elective office went out on the stump to beat them. It growled and snarled and snapped and spat at the supreme court of the United States and laid plans to drive that tribunal into a corner where it could beat it. But it didn't have sufficient leadership to get the plans any place. That is where it needed our noble President.

Now the entire trouble with the supreme court from the standpoint of the Anti-Saloon League was, as with Mr. Roosevelt, in the constitution. The Anti-Saloon League wanted the supreme court to change the constitution. The court wouldn't. That is enough reason for war.

The part of the constitution that bothered in those days reads as follows:

"The right of the people to be secure in their persons, houses, papers and effects against unreasonable searches and seizures, shall not be violated, and no warrants shall issue but upon probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation, and particularly describing the place to be searched and the persons or things to be seized."

When this part of the constitution is demolished a man's home will no longer be his castle. Of course the supreme court upheld the constitution, and a man's home remained his castle, even though he ran a still in it, and so long as the government failed to get sufficient evidence to go before a magistrate and convince him that the still was there.

As the courts frustrated the zealots the fanatical horde gathered. They talked of repudiating the constitution, repudiating the courts, and they damned the individuals on the bench.

With all their power, with the superintoxication of their zeal, and all their arch cruelty, they failed to start a campaign that, had Mr. Roosevelt preceded them as President, would have found a precedent waiting.

Whatever may be said about Mr. Hoover he did not look upon his tremendous popular victory in 1928 as a "mandate" to put the courts out of business merely because the people then supported him in standing by the ignoble experiment.

When Mr. Roosevelt is through with office, particularly if he continues his insensate purpose to become All-Highest, we will open again to those words of Mr. Dooley to Mr. Hennessy:

"When ye build yer triumphal arch to yer conquerin' hero build it out of bricks so the people will have somethin' convenient to throw at him as he passes through."

CARTOONISTS, ATTENTION!

News accounts of the landing of the Russian flyers in California state that, on landing in a farmer's field, the Soviet emissaries, unable to speak English, displayed cards lettered "Food," "Sleep" and "Bath." The one in which they seemed most interested was that reading "Bath."

What? Russians, and bolshevik Russians at that, taking baths? After a generation of cartoons depicting Russians with masses of bristling whiskers, and usually holding bombs with sputtering fuses? Thirty years ago, the portable bathtubs of the Japanese army were cited to earnest young Americans as somewhat more important than long-range guns and field telephones in the victory over the Russians, who never, never, took baths.

The insistence on baths must be a clever piece of Soviet propaganda, carried to completion even though the aviators become martyrs in the process. Russians take baths? Never! Ask any cartoonist.

Judgment for $50 damages was given in a British court for disinfecting a house without giving notice, this being "wrongful interference with property."

During 1936, '37, and going on estimates for 1938, the cost for transporting government officials (other than congressmen) to various parts of the globe amounted to two hundred six million dollars. In figures it looks like this: $206,000,000.

The representative further points out that this is greater than the cost of sending the A. E. F. to France.

Two hundred and six million dollars would feed how many families, for how long? Well, let's see—yeah, it would feed a million families for more than four months at the rate of $50 per month per family, and that $50 allowance is high, according to relief standards.

All of this for travelling expenses mind you.

And I sit around wondering about paying for the vacation.

I swing on childhood's magic track,
Hearing again the soothing charm
Of rain upon my father's farm.

Knowing this boon would put to rout
The perils of the threatened drought;
Soaking in memory the wet
Green wheat, the hidden violet. . . .

Feeling the peace that fell upon
Our acreage when silver dawn
Was deluged, and the morning meant
Long, lazy moments of content.

I hear the tranquilizing rain:
Its music takes me home again.
Once more the clover-scented breeze
Blows through the weeping willow trees;

And in my little room I keep
Belated rendezvous with sleep,
Knowing the good life and its proof
In rain upon my father's roof.

WHERE DID YOU GET THOSE
(name your color) EYES?

It used to perplex me to hear people say a person had blue, gray, brown or black eyes, before I learned that all eyes are brown. I am not color blind. I know now that when you look into certain eyes you lose consciousness for a moment and before you come to you may lose almost anything—people call them blue eyes. I know, too, that when you look into other eyes you begin multiplying 21 meals a week by 52 weeks a year, etc.—these are what the auto license bureau calls brown eyes. And so it goes; with a little observation and application one can learn in time to recognize three or four different "colors" of eyes, although actually all eyes are brown unless they are colorless—albino.

Take my eyes for example. I have brown eyes, like everybody else whose eyes are any color at all. But I go all to pieces when I am required to state under oath what color my eyes are. It was even worse when I had to testify about the color of my hair, but that isn't of much moment now. Just to show how little alleged eye color means, I have described my eyes from year to year as brown, blue, gray, black, green, hazel—and I believe I might get by if I called them red, orange, yellow, indigo or violet. You pay your license fee and takes your choice.

The so-called "color" of eyes depends upon the amount and distribution of the brown pigment in the iris. I say brown pigment because it is invariably and essentially brown and no other shade or color. If it happens to be but little pigment, the iris appears blue like a clear deep lake. If there is more pigment it looks gray; if still more it looks brown, like a river at flood. If the iris is heavily pigmented the eyes are "black," actually dark brown.

In various shades of so-called "blue" eyes the pigment in the iris is confined to the deep or rear surface, and light is reflected from the pigment cells thru the translucent tissue of the cornea and sclerotic coverings of eyeball. In "gray" or "hazel" or "brown" eyes the pigment is more thickly distributed thru the front of the iris.

The iris is the colored ring surrounding the black central dot or disk called the pupil of the eye. The iris is chiefly muscle, some of the muscle fibres being circular and contracting or narrowing the pupil when they contract; other fibres being radial, like the spokes of a wheel, and when these contract the pupil is widened or dilated.

The iris responds to various stimuli, contracts and makes the pupil smaller in bright light; relaxes or dilates and makes the pupil larger in dim light or darkness; relaxes and makes the pupil larger (to admit more light) when the eye regards anything at a distance; contracts when the eye regards anything a few inches away. Various emotions affect the size of the pupils—fear dilates them, for instance. Various drugs may dilate or contract the pupils. Finally, the general state of health or nutrition determines the size of the pupils.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Silver and Smoking

Years ago you told of painting the throat with a silver solution as an aid in breaking the smoking habit. (J. L.)

Answer—Send stamped envelope bearing your address, for instructions for breaking the tobacco habit. Daily use of a very weak silver nitrate solution helps in some cases. Why be a sissy in the first place?

Thirst

Please give your advice about drinking water in very hot weather—whether ice water or warmer water is better, how much one may drink when very thirsty, whether it is wise to drink near a mealtime, and whether other beverages are better than water. (W. F.)

Answer—Water cool enough to be agreeable is best, and that is generally around 50 degrees or a little less. Drink as much as you want when you are thirsty. Water is generally better than any other beverage to relieve thirst. If you are sweating much, it is advisable to take a good pinch of salt with every drink of water—you will find this more refreshing than water alone.

Ask Father, He Knows

My father claims soda pop is harmful. I claim it isn't. Please tell us which is right. (R. P.)

Answer—In my judgment fresh fruit juice beverages, sweetened as you like, are more healthful than carbonated drinks.

Your Birthday

"Cancer"

If July 22 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:15 to 11:15 a. m., from 3:15 to 5:15 P. M., and from 8:15 to 10:15 P. M. The danger periods are from 7:15 to 9:15 A. M., from 6:15 to 8:15 P. M., and from 10:15, until midnight.

Watch carefully every motive that prompts your important actions this day, and be sure that they are worthy. Selfishness will be the primary cause for most of the day's tribulations, so guard against its pernicious influence. In business and social circles it might prove dangerous to play politics in order to achieve some desired end. There is only one way to play any game, and that is honestly. If you wish to be able to have a feeling of satisfaction over the final results, excuses are apt to be regarded with suspicion this day, so be careful how freely you offer them. It might be wise to keep in mind that free advice is seldom valued. Married and engaged couples, whose hearts have been penetrated by Cupid's darts, must be careful not to let curiosity make them demanding or unworthily suspicious.

If a woman and July 22 is your birthday, you may possess literary or dramatic ability. You ought to have a lively imagination and a love for adventure. You may be highly emotional and unduly sensitive. A great amount of good fortune is apt to make your life well worth living, after you have gone through some tribulations. Be careful you never develop a sense of self-righteousness to the degree it will become offensive to your friends. An undue amount of enthusiasm can make you indiscreet, so always control it. As a public stenographer, secretary, accountant, radio entertainer, broker, author or musician your ability may be substantially recognized. The indications are your matrimonial choice will be a wise one, and that your home life is likely to be ideal.

The child born on July 22, is likely from the time it enters high school to show remarkable intellectual development. Its mental attitude is likely to undergo a decided change for the better, and its work is apt to bear good fruit.

If a man and July 22 is your natal day, you are likely to have the opportunity of doing much good in the world. A great amount of power may be placed in your hands. Use it wisely if you would escape humiliation. As an educator, clergyman, banker, manufacturer, industrial sales engineer, broker, journalist or actor your influence may be widely felt.

Seen And Heard In New York

BY GEORGE TUCKER

New York—Billy the Oyster Man suggests that you quietly spurn soap if you wish to avoid "fishy" hands after preparing, say, a nice catch of trout for dinner. Billy the Oyster Man is in a way, a symbol that bridges the old, roccoco New York of another day and the hurly-burly of 1937.

In catering to celebrities for decades he has prepared pompos for Caruso, sturgeon for Lily Langtry, mountain trout for John Barrymore, yellow perch for Miriam Hopkins, sea-bass for Maurice Chevalier, frog legs for Claudette Colbert, lamb-chops, salmon for President Roosevelt, swordfish steaks for Wallace Berry, shark's fin soup for Cole Porter, lobster for General Pershing, fried catfish for Irvin S. Cobb . . . the list stretches from here to there.

And what he says about safeguarding the hands is this: Thoroughly chill the hands in cold water before touching the raw fish. Later, cleanse in hot water and salt. This leaves them odorless and sweet, a measure of satisfaction that soap somehow fails to achieve.

Then there is this note, a nature item which ornithologists will appreciate. . . . It isn't true that swans, ducks, and the larger species of wild fowl fly high in summer to avoid the extreme heat. . . . Being practical minded, they seek the upper altitudes in search of tail wind to help them get home in a hurry. Croil Hunter, an executive of the North West Airlines, reports seeing a brace of snow geese, at 10,000 feet, hugging his tail on the run in from Seattle. "You go faster with a tail wind," he explains, "and those ganders were in a hurry. They probably didn't want to have to explain to mama where they had been. They got all close to the pilot had to step up his speed. I really believe they would have hopped on the tail for a ride if they had caught up with us."

The "wry" cocktail has made its appearance in New York bars and it gives you just that sort of grimace. Adèle Astaire is planning a vacation from her Lismore castle, among the yew trees, in Ireland. . . . She wants to make another excursion into the theater.

On warm days Lee Shubert, the producer, moves his office to the roof of a theater. . . . Adolphe Luque, famous curve-ball pitcher who is now a coach with the Giants, wears brass buttons on his underwear. . . . honest. . . . The absence of panhandlers in Manhattan is explained. They've all moved to Coney Island, where the sands are cooler than the park benches.

A Bystander In Washington

Washington—Every once in a while a city feels it is living a historic moment. Washington had such a feeling as the senate took up the debate on the Supreme Court bill.

Debate in the senate often is not impressive and a spirit of cantankerousness prevails under most circumstances which brings the whole affair down to about the level of an election campaign meeting.

But when the lads withdrew from their Fourth of July celebrating and went to work on the revised court bill, they were tampering with the fundamentals of government—and they knew it.

Accusations

There are two sides to this court packing business and no matter which side you are on the logic of the opposition hits hard and demands something besides sarcastic film-flam in reply.

Both sides had the good judgment early in the debate to skim off at least part of the slag that has hidden the real meat of the issue. President Roosevelt wants men on the court with a viewpoint different from that which prevailed until a very few months ago.

That much the President or his spokesmen have said, repeatedly.

It is the administration contention that the justices, in interpreting acts of congress, have been injecting their own views on what is good policy for the government in spite of constitutional delegation of that authority to congress alone.

The opposition contention is that for congress to permit placing of new members on the court for the obvious purpose of bringing a line of decisions desired by the administration in power would be to invite repeated excursions of such nature. Thus a precedent would be set for congress and the prevailing administration to drown independent court views in a flood of new appointments.

ERB PARK PAVILLION

Editor Post-Crescent—I have just completed reading an article in Saturday's Post-Crescent concerning the need for a pavilion in Erb Park, as expressed to the city council at the last meeting by one of the Sixth ward aldermen.

While we, in the Sixth ward, have heard some previous mention of it, there is no small amount of confusion in many of our minds as to the nature of the proposed building, and the use to which it will be put. Stories range all the way from a plan for a modest shelter for picnickers, to one for an elaborate dancing pavilion with a bar in connection.

Now before this thing is railroaded through, or before we are unnecessarily steamed up about it, a good many of us would appreciate an expression by the promoters of this movement as to the truth and nature of it. One type of pavilion can have much merit while another is entirely contrary to the aims of our city park system.

I speak as a Scout leader of many years, and as I write these lines, I can't help think of the proposed building program in the light of its effect upon the youngsters of our ward.

Now who will be bold enough to give us something definite in black and white on the nature of this movement?

Disposal Plant Cost Remained Below Estimate

Formal Opening Will be Held Friday, Saturday
And Sunday

Cost of the sewage disposal plant, estimated at $700,000, remained below the original estimate, final figures released by Clarence Baetz, plant superintendent show. The final cost was $699,842.21.

The plant will be formally opened Friday, Saturday and Sunday. The public has been invited to inspect the plant during the three days and plant employees will be present to explain the various operations.

Contractors on the project included Fluor Brothers Construction company, Oshkosh; Koepke Brothers, Inc., Appleton; R. J. Wilson company, Appleton; C. R. Meyer and Sons company, Oshkosh, and Hoffman Construction, Appleton.

The treatment plant and sewers were designed and the construction supervised by Greeley and Hansen, consulting engineers of Chicago, with F. E. Fulmer as resident engineer. Principal assistants on construction were Clarence A. Baetz and A. W. Wickengren. Inspectors on the sewer construction were Charles Donnelly, W. H. Gmeiner, C. S. Simpson and B. W. Pride.

Aided by FWA Charles H. Lang acted as resident engineer inspector with Fred Gensch as assistant for the Federal Emergency administration of Public Works, which aided in financing the project.

The bureau of sanitary engineering of the Wisconsin State Board of Health under the direction of L. F. Warwick, closely cooperated in solving the cleanup problem and furnished information for early extensive studies of the Fox river conditions. The project was built under the direction of the common council.

The Appleton sewage project is one of nine similar projects built or under construction during the last year to remove the pollution load from the Fox river between Lake Winnebago and Green Bay. The distance along the river in this stretch is about 38 miles. The principal cities and towns participating in the river cleanup are Appleton, Green Bay, DePere, Kaukauna, Little Chute, Neenah, Menasha, Oshkosh, Wrightstown and Kimberly.

Many Sewer Outlets Appleton, being located on either side of the river, and with a sewage system which included 18 main sewer outlets to the river, required more than the usual amount of intercepting sewers.

The new project completes a system of sewers extending along each bank of the river from the upper city limits to a river crossing a short distance above the lower city limits, thence a single sewer along the south side of the river to the treatment plant just outside the city limits.

Mayor Recalls How Cars Spun on Oiled Street 25 Years Ago

With paving problems occupying the attention of city officials now, Mayor Goodland recalled today that he directed, as councilman in charge of street department work, the oiling of the College avenue pavement just 25 years ago.

Light oil was used at that time and although the avenue was closed temporarily, to traffic, some motorists attempted to "sneak" across. When they ran onto the oil, the mayor recalled, their cars would skid and spin as badly as if the street surface were coated with ice.

Schindler Favors Cold Laid Asphalt Surfacing

Comments on types of material proposed for resurfacing of College avenue are contained in a letter mailed to owners of property along the avenue today and signed by L. N. Schindler, city engineer.

In the letter, Schindler indicates that he is opposed to use of a type of bitulithic pavement on which cold laid sheet asphalt on which prices also have been received. The opinion is offered in response to requests by a number of business men, the letters state.

Kaukauna Boy Hit By Charge From Gun That 'Wasn't Loaded'

Struck by a .22 caliber bird shot charge from "a gun that wasn't loaded," Howard, 12-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dan McCabe, 231 Doty street, Kaukauna, was seriously injured about 10 o'clock this morning.

Howard was playing "cops and robbers" with Dean Bayoregon, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Marshall Bayoregon, 215 Desnoyer street, in the basement of the Bayoregon home when the accident occurred. Marshall Bayoregon took the injured boy to a physician's office and later to St. Elizabeth hospital.

The two boys found a gun, owned by Ralph Bayoregon, in the basement and conceived the cops and robbers idea. According to the story told Marshall Bayoregon by his son, Howard was the "cop" first, pointed at his dodging playmate, and pulled the trigger several times. Nothing happened. When it was Dean's turn to be cop and he pulled the trigger, the gun went off. The charge of fine shot scattered on his friend's face.

The injured boy walked to the top the stairway and asked Marshall Bayoregon to take him to a doctor.

Motorists Fined for Traffic Violations

Two motorists were fined for traffic violations by Judge Thomas H. Ryan in municipal court this morning. Joe Meiers, 813 W. Winnebago street, pleaded guilty of failing to stop for a fire truck while it was answering a call this morning and was fined $5 and costs with an alternative of 15 days in the county detention camp. Francis Printice, Hortonville, was fined $5 and costs with an alternative of 15 days in the county detention camp for failing to stop at an arterial on College avenue. Both men were arrested by Appleton police this morning.

Case Against Trucker Dismissed by Judge

Municipal Judge Thomas H. Ryan dismissed a case against J. Margulis, Milwaukee, charged with operating a truck without carrying two clearance signal lights, this morning upon payment of costs of $4.60. Margulis was arrested yesterday by a county motorcycle officer in the town of Hortonville.

Court Bill Foes Prepare to Offer Compromise Plan

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) expressed the opinion following Barkley's election that the supreme court reorganization bill was "dead."

Speaker Bankhead was asked at his press conference whether he believed any attempt would be made to bring a court bill before the house if the senate recommitted its measure.

"I do not," he said emphatically. Senate leaders, after discussing the situation at the White House late yesterday, smiled and talked of "harmony"—something that has been lacking during the long conflict.

Just before the conference, seven Democratic senators—all but one of them uncommitted on the court bill—were reported to have told Vice President Garner they would vote to recommit the measure if a settlement could not be reached speedily.

Another hint of compromise was seen in the delay of Senator Wagner (D-N. Y.) in replying to the appeal from governor Lehman of New York that he vote against the bill. Wagner was expected to issue his reply today.

Attend Conference

Both leadership candidates—Senators Barkley of Kentucky, who was elected this morning, and Harbison of Mississippi—accompanied Vice President Garner and President Pro Tempore Pittman (D-Nev.) to the White House yesterday.

Life Is Asked in Scotsboro Case

Prosecution Wants Negro
Sent to Prison on Rape Charge

Decatur, Ala.—(P)—Life imprisonment was asked by the state today while the tenth jury to weigh the "Scotsboro case" prepared to pass judgment on Andy Wright, Negro defendant.

Wright and eight others of his race are charged with a gang attack on two white women six years ago.

H. G. Bailey, solicitor of the Scotsboro circuit, asked the jury of 12 white men to convict under a law "designed to protect the virtue of our women, regardless of their reputation."

Samuel Leibowitz, chief of the defense, countered with a plea for acquittal "because Victoria Price was not raped."

For the first time in the 10 trials of the case, the defendant's life was not in jeopardy, the state having agreed to waive a demand for the electric chair.

*Convictions with death penalties twice have been overturned by the United States Supreme Court, on separate defense contentions of inadequate counsel and exclusion of Negroes from juries. Last week a jury decreed along the electric chair for Clarence Norris, one of the nine accused. Heywood Paterson, another, received a 75-year sentence last year in the first of the new series of trials.

Renamed Secretary of County Officers Group

Miss Marie Ziegenhagen, Outagamie county treasurer, was reelected secretary of the Wisconsin County Treasurers, Registers of Deeds and Clerks of Courts association at the annual meeting at Rhinelander Sunday and Monday. She also was reelected secretary and treasurer of the County Treasurers association.

Sydney M. Shannon, clerk of court, and Arthur L. Collar, register of deeds, also attended the meeting. Besides the meetings of the various groups, point sessions were held. A resolution was adopted at a joint meeting favoring non-partisan election of county officials.

Refuse Permission to Alter Frame Building

The application of Katherine Conway for a building permit to remove a frame structure at 207 E. College avenue was denied by the board of building inspectors Tuesday. The request was refused because the building plans did not comply with regulations enforced within the fire limits, it was announced.

Realty Transfers

Two realty transfers have been filed with Arthur L. Collar, county register of deeds. They are: Streator-Hansen company to Frank Schimmers, a lot in the Fourth ward, Appleton.

Alice Frederick to Ira B. Frederick, a lot in the city of New London.

STRIKE SETTLED

No Settlement Is Indicated After Confab on Dispute

Creamery Package Hearing
Expected to be Resumed Tomorrow

Fl. Atkinson—(P)—Grandon D. Gates, manager of the Creamery Package company here, said today that "nothing has developed toward a settlement" of the controversy between the company, the Fl. Atkinson Law and Order league, and a CIO union at a conference in Jefferson Tuesday night. Gates said he understands a state labor board hearing in the matter will be resumed in Jefferson tomorrow morning unless Votta Wabetz, who is conducting the hearing, is unable to be present.

Madison—(P)—The state labor relations office awaited today a possible settlement of the controversy between the Creamery Package Manufacturing Co. of Fl. Atkinson, the Fl. Atkinson Law and Order league and a CIO union of the company's employees.

All parties to the dispute, including representatives of the labor board, attended a conference at Jefferson last night after adjournment of a board hearing of charges that the company and the league engaged in unfair labor practices.

It was reported that at the suggestion of one of the parties and with the agreement of all others, Nathan P. Feinsinger, attorney for the board, submitted a tentative proposal as the basis of discussion.

The conference lasted for three hours and labor board officials were awaiting today for more developments from all camps.

The company was accused of sponsoring an A. F. of L. union at its plant after the board had certified the CIO union as the legal collective bargaining agency for the workers. A. F. of L. officials and counsel attended the peace conference.

If a settlement is reached, the board is expected to drop all charges against the company and the law and order league. Otherwise it may resume the hearing, tentatively scheduled for tomorrow, or it may issue its findings on the basis of testimony already taken.

Seek Authority to Build Water Intake

Madison—(P)—The Public Service commission took under advisement today the application of Port Washington for authority to build a $72,000 lake water intake for its water department.

Charles B. Hayden, the commission's assistant chief engineer, presided at the hearing. Detailed explanation of the application was given by Roy Schuknecht, member of the city water commission, and William Heins, an employee of the Donohue Construction company of Sheboygan.

They told Hayden the present piping into Lake Michigan is a potential menace to health because of leakage near the shore line. The new improved type of pipe, they said, would extend 3,500 feet into the lake, or 700 feet beyond the present distance.

The city, Schuknecht said, plans to build a filtration plant later. The water is now treated with chlorine.

It Is Said--

May Use CCC Workers To Spread Poison Bait

Washington—(P)—Emergency conservation work officials took under consideration today a plan for using CCC enrollees to spread grasshopper poison mash in western Wisconsin counties.

Hull said reports indicated about 300,000 acres had been infested in four counties in his district and that the situation in some areas appeared serious.

Flashes of Life

By the Associated Press
Oregon City, Ore.—William Teague's "pocket-in-one" golf shot set a pose for the rule book.
Teague's drive off the fourteenth tee split the fairway but neither he nor other members of the foursome could find the ball.
About this time George Swafford, looking for a ball he had slipped onto the fourteenth fairway, felt a jar in his pocket and found Teague's ball had landed there.
He solved the question of how Teague "play his second shot by dropping the pellet to the fairway."

Chicago Speeds Its Bright School Pupils

Chicago—Chicago public school authorities are installing a new method of class division whereby elementary pupils will graduate in seven years instead of eight.
At Grade 1-b each child is to be tested as to ability from the standpoint of intelligence quotient, health, achievement and social adaptability. Those who rate high are put into an accelerated class. Each class will have the same teacher to and including the 4-a grade and another from 4-b to 7-b instead of a different teacher at the end of each semester. Upon completion of the highest year the teacher returns to pick up another class in the lowest of her grades. The accelerated classes will complete each three and one-half year stretch in three years.

McAlester, Okla.—Where were you on the night of November 3, last? might be a fair question to ask one of the inmates to McAlester penitentiary.
In a letter requesting the board of affairs to enlarge the prison school, the Rev. A. R. Garrett, prison chaplain, included the following memorandum on a new prisoner just matriculated from LeFlore county:
"He didn't know who is President of the United States. He didn't know the name of the county from which he was sentenced, and in which he had lived all his life. He didn't know the name of the judge who sentenced him. He didn't know who was governor of Oklahoma."

Patrolman Loses His Pants in Tilt With Problem Bear

Helena, Mont.—Brownie, the state game department's "problem bear," has made the mistake of grabbing the pants of a patrolman. The bear promptly turned in his loose skin and with his hind feet began clawing off the policeman's pants.

Mrs. Kane finally arrived with a chain and collar and Brownie became docile, permitting Kane to harness him.

The game department wasn't very glad to have Brownie returned, Kane reported.

Patrolman Kane, shaving in his home, looked out the window to see the north side of Brownie going south across his yard.
He ran, and, rather than fly from the bear, made the mistake of grabbing the bear by the nose of his neck. The bear promptly turned in his loose skin and with his hind feet began clawing off the policeman's pants.

American Troops Told to Defend U. S. Interests

Wangpinghsien and Nanyuan in the Peiping area. It was thought possible other strategic points in the zone where Japanese and Chinese have been fighting for two weeks also would be subjected to attack.

In a general attack against Wangpinghsien, just north of the marble bridge of Marco Polo west of Peiping, yesterday Japanese troops destroyed the Chinese barracks there with an artillery bombardment. The Japanese claimed they had also destroyed the Chinese army.

Japanese "Warning"
In answer to reports of heavy loss of civilian lives in the shelling which lasted throughout the afternoon and night, Japanese asserted they had "warned" the populace to evacuate the area.

Unconfirmed reports said Japanese machine guns executed terrible slaughter on the Chinese forces attacking the positions held by the Japanese.

The "more deadly" attack against the Chinese troops was threatened by Major General Torashiro Kawaguchi "unless they reflect on their action." The general's statement was taken as a clear indication that Japan's war machine in North China was seeking by increasingly serious threats to force Chinese capitulation to demands for uninterrupted domination of the area.

CABINET'S STAND
Tokio—The cabinet determined today to enforce by arms the alleged surrender of North China officials to demands for extended Japanese influence in the crisis-ridden area.

At the same time the privy council in plenary session approved the attack launched yesterday by the Japanese army against the city of Wangpinghsien, a western suburb of Peiping, and commended the troops for their gallantry in action.

In view of the ever mounting gravity of the situation, Premier Fumimaro Konoye decided to hold an emergency cabinet session every noon to deal instantly with any developments.

The cabinet decided that the agreement it insists the commander of the 23th Chinese army, General Sung Cheh-Yuan, made with local Japanese authorities must be carried out despite its rejection by the Chinese government. China repeatedly has declared Japan must deal with her central government at Nanking and no local truce would be recognized.

The last of the series of agreements which Japan says General Sung made orally is the one the cabinet is determined to enforce. Known as the "secret spot agreement" it was concluded between General Sung and the Japanese North China commander, Lieutenant General Kiyoshi Katsuki, July 19.

Joint Campaign
Apparently it provided for a joint Sino-Japanese campaign against communism, suppression of anti-Japanese agitation, a formal apology for the first clash at Marco Polo bridge July 7, an indemnity for the loss of lives and withdrawal of General Sung's troops.

Domei (Japanese) news agency dispatches from Peiping reported today that the evacuation already had begun and that Japanese planes had flown over Peiping to observe the withdrawal.

(The Associated Press correspondent at Peiping declared, however, that there was no sign of the 29th army's giving up the positions it has held throughout the two weeks fighting.)

Because of the alleged national mobilization of Chinese troops to resist enforcement of any local capitulation to the Japanese demands, Japan continued to prepare for war on a major scale.

The government announced it was drawing on its second reserve fund for $3,000,000 to pay the costs of reinforcements dispatched to the North China area. A bill was being drafted for presentation to the diet Friday asking an additional $12,000,000 for further troop movements.

Washington—The 15th United States infantry is part of an international force stationed at Tientsin, China, to assure an open railroad line from Peiping to the sea. Ditch Becomes Runaway River

Huge Sum Needed to Control "Frankenstein" Created by Farmers

Safford, Ariz.—A destructive 60-mile river has come into being near here as the result of farmers' attempts to "improve" a vast, once-fertile valley.

Now the government is trying to check the Frankenstein by planting grass and creosote bushes along its banks. It is estimated $840,000 must be spent to salvage what is left of the 750,000 acres of farm and grazing land in San Simon valley, through which the new stream makes its way.

First described by the late Will C. Barnes, Arizona pioneer and writer, the rich valley quickly attracted farmers and Texas cattlemen. Annoyed by spring freshets, the settlers dug a small drainage ditch and ploughed furrows to direct the water into it.

From this beginning the San Simon river sprang, attaining a depth of 30 feet and spreading to a width of several hundred. When rain falls, many tons of soil are washed away and networks of muddy gorges replace the "beautiful grassy meadows" that awakened Barnes' admiration back in 1882.

Soil conservation engineers will try to "anchor" adjacent soil by planting the native shrubs.

Tails of Squirrels

How much the squirrels owe to their bushy tails! If they did not have tails, they could not balance themselves in their long leaps from limb to limb, or tree to tree.

One of the trout seized his tail. The smallest tree squirrel on our continent is the eastern flying squirrel, with a body only about five inches long on the average. Its tail is about four inches long, but it is very useful. Spread out behind during a glide, it looks like a rudder, and it may be of help in guiding the little animal to its landing place. Other kinds of flying squirrels have longer tails and bodies, but none are so large as gray squirrels or fox squirrels.

Some gray squirrels are nearly two feet in length, counting the tails and their tails are 11 or 12 inches long. Fox squirrels have tails even a little longer, sometimes measuring 13 inches.

The red squirrel's tail is shorter than that of the gray, but it is just as important to the little animal. We are told that it "strips off" rather easily. When that happens, it is said indeed, for the squirrel no longer is able to make safe leaps.

Mr. Charles H. Horton tells of a red squirrel which lost its tail while he was watching it. On the lawn beside the Horton home was a large fountain basin in which there were several good-sized trout. The red squirrel was in the custom of drinking from the basin.

One day the squirrel took his drink, then turned and sat on the rim of the basin. He seemed to be watching a cat some distance away, and was chattering and at the same time moving his tail so it touched the water now and then. Suddenly one of the trout leapt for the tail, caught it and pulled it off!

Running to a nearby tree, the squirrel climbed it and looked down to see the trout playing with the tail. The squirrel scolded for a few minutes. Mr. Horton stated that he saw the squirrel later, and that the sore spot seemed to be healed; but the squirrel without a tail did not live long. At least it vanished from sight in a week or so, and was not seen again in the grove where it had made its home.

Other cases are known where squirrels have lost their tails, and seems they never have lived long afterward. The tail seems to keep a squirrel from being hurt by a long jump.

Gray squirrels, with their fine bushy tails, often make leaps from great heights. They can leap without harm from a height of 50 or 60 feet, landing on twigs covering the ground in the forest. It is claimed that they have fallen from heights of more than 75 feet during winter, and have not hurt themselves. The snow has served as a cushion.

Twister Shows Grudge
Against Auto Salesman

Colorado Springs, Colo.—(P)—The wind seems to have had a grudge against William Hall, service manager for a used car lot.

A "tiny twister," very rare at Colorado Springs, dipped down on the lot and tore a few things apart.

It picked up a sign advertising the used cars and carried it three blocks, dropping it on the sidewalk.

Hall happened to be underneath and his own sign fractured his hand.

It was the only damage that occurred in the city.

Resthaven Will Be Sold, Council Decides at Meet

City Attorney Instructed To Enforce Soot Ordinance

Menasha—The city council voted to advertise for bids for the sale of Resthaven cemetery in a 2-hour meeting last night which moved along with business-like precision except for a slight flurry just before adjournment over matters relating to the park board.

It was suggested by Mayor Walter E. Held at the last meeting that perhaps two or three of the five men working at Resthaven could be transferred to the park board crew, and after Alderman Philip Michalikiewicz, cemetery board chairman, last night had established that such a move could be made, the council decided to add any extra available men to the street committee crew.

Jacob Liebl, park board member, was present at the meeting and told the council that the board could use the men but could not afford to pay them because of a slashed budget. If their wages were charged to the cemetery board, or some other committee, he said, then they could be added to the park force.

"You gave us a certain budget with which to work," Liebl said, "and if we paid these men, we would overdraw our budget, something we do not intend to do."

Sees Trouble

"I think the superintendent of parks is stirring up trouble," Alderman M. J. Grode declared. "If Gruper would look around the city and see that certain projects were taken care of, we aldermen wouldn't be on the spot."

Women had complained to him, he said, of tearing their stockings on untrimmed park shrubbery, growing on park board property, that hung over sidewalks. Alderman Clement Newcomb then moved that the extra men taken off the cemetery crew be added to the street force and his motion was approved.

City Attorney Edward McKenzie was authorized last night to take immediate steps for enforcing of the smoke and soot ordinance against the Wisconsin Tissue Mills Third street. Residents of that vicinity have complained an excessive soot issuing from the mills stacks. The mill has been properly notified it was revealed at last night's meeting but has not taken any measures to abate the nuisance.

Vote Sewer Funds

An appropriation of $1540 for the city's share in the installation of sanitary sewers on Naymut street was voted by the council. This represents 55 per cent of the $2800 which the project will cost. The remainder of the money will be furnished by the PWA.

Building Inspector Fire Chief Paul Thiemer must refer all his applications for new buildings to the new planning commission before they can be granted, according to a resolution passed by the aldermen last night.

A petition from property owners on Ninth street asking for the installation of sanitary sewers and water mains from Tayco street to 315 Ninth street was referred to the board of public works on the stipulation that a hearing on the sewers will be held soon.

To Remove Stumps

At the request of Frank Younger, superintendent of schools, the council ordered the street committee to remove stumps on the Butte des Morts school property.

The council officially accepted the letter of resignation of Urban Remmel from the park and recreation board last night and gave him a vote of thanks for his services. Remmel is now employed in Oconto Falls.

A complaint will be made to the Jeanen Bakery over smoke and soot issuing from its buildings and a notice issued that the condition be bettered will be served the owners, it was decided.

Charles Grade, a resident of the Fifth ward, appeared before the council last night and complained that damage is being done to sidewalks, terraces and trees on Broad street by the construction company installing intercepting sewers.

He said that residents have legal claims to such damages and that they are "getting so sick of waiting for any compensation that they are doing the work themselves."

His protests brought about a resolution to the effect that if repairs on the damaged property are not started within a week, the city street committee will do the work and charge it to the construction company.

A letter informing the council that the annual convention of the League of Wisconsin Municipalities will be held in Fond du Lac Sept. 16 and 17 was read at last night's meeting.

Will of Neenah Woman Construed By County Court

Judge A. E. McDonald Interprets Testament of Mary Felker Snell

Oshkosh — Interpretation of the will of Mary Felker Snell, Neenah, has been made in a decision handed down today by County Judge A. E. McDonald. The inventory lists an estate valued at $278,756.10.

Executors, holding the will to be ambiguous in part, made petitions for the construction and a hearing was held in county court on May 28, 1937.

The court stipulates there should be paid to Arthur B. Snell, widow of the deceased, $4,000 a year from the time of her death in 1935, the balance from dividends of Gilbert Paper company stock owned by her to be paid into a $50,000 trust fund created by the will for Sarah Felker Gresham, a sister, and her children.

The issue is whether the proceeds of real estate and the cash balance on hand should be paid to the trust fund or the annuity fund, or any portion of it before the cash legacies are paid or whether the cash legacies must be paid out of the balance in the hands of the executors.

Money on hand should first go toward payment of the cash legacies and if any money is left from the sale of personal property and real estate, this should be turned over to Albert C. Gilbert to apply on the trust, the court held.

At the time of her death, Mrs. Snell owned 415 shares of stock in the Gilbert Paper company and 50 shares of stock in the National Manufacturers bank at Neenah. The paper company stock was appraised at $500 per share and the other at $100 per share. The home and other personal items of property and some money in the bank constituted the rest of the estate.

Hollywood News And Gossip

BY ROBBIN COONS

Hollywood — After going along happily in the belief that a handkerchief was for nose-blowing I had to run into John Macsoud.

Accustomed to the incredible in this town of movie magic, I'd found it difficult to believe that the films actually use technical advice on handkerchiefs. They said Macsoud was the man, and it's true.

When Jackie Cooper played the ragamuffin in "Big Boy," Macsoud was called in to decide, among other things, what type hanky a boy like that would cry into. For Jackie's tears Macsoud ordered a burly square, tattered and filthy, and pocketed his check. More complicated was "The Last of Mrs. Cheyney," not only hankies but table linens passing under his scrutiny. He contributed to "Vouges of 1938," and when Rosita Diaz makes the Spanish picture, "La Vida Bohemia," Macsoud will supervise hankies, nappery, and other linens used.

My visit to his shop — pictures being merely gravy to him — made me realize how far the handkerchief parade has passed me by. But he was kindly about it, assuring me that only in the past few years has the handkerchief made notable progress.

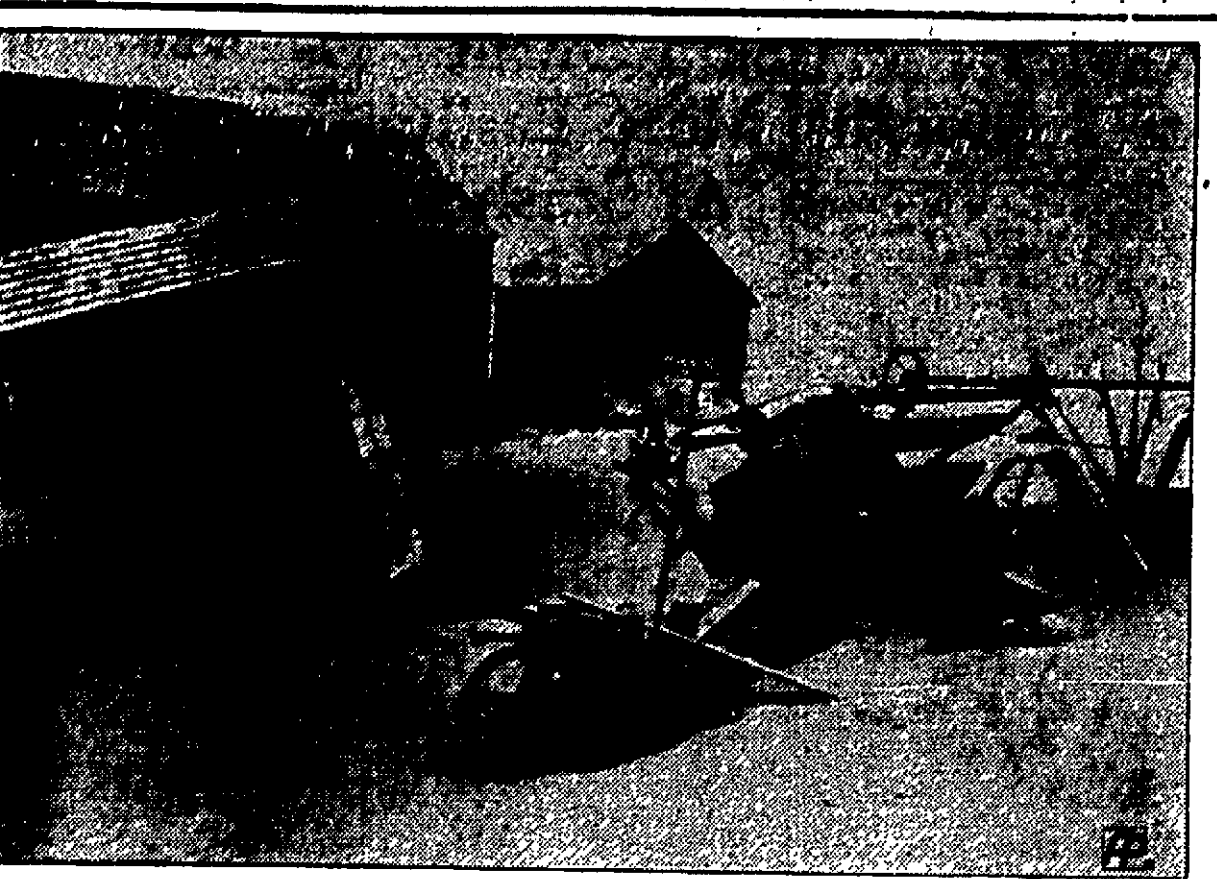

He is a big fellow, with astounding lore on the history of linens. He has been "in linens" all his life, following in family footsteps first taken in Syria. He and his wife have set out to "dramatize the handkerchief" in Hollywood, where everything, from poodles to pickles, must be "dramatized" or else.

He says there are between 300 and 400 different types of hanky besides the utilitarian variety — types for all occasions. And handkerchief-consciousness is spreading, in case you too didn't know. Just for information's sake, I asked him how many different types of hanky a really well-dressed man should have, and he thought perhaps a couple of hundred types would do. So we talked about movie stars, and Hollywood's handkerchief habits.

Handkerchief — collecting has a greater hold on the film famous than you'd suspect. Jeanette MacDonald and Joan Blondell dote on their collections, and among the men Leslie Howard, Conrad Nagel and George Raft are inveterate hoarders.

Macsoud casually displayed a few little dainties which could be had for a hundred bucks apiece, and when I said "You're kidding," he said no, he was getting some others—$750 each—but mainly for display, he admitted.

No movie star has yet invested in a $100 hanky. He's sold five in nine months, none to movie people. The stars, he observed, are more budget-minded than they used to be. Many will pay $10 to $12 apiece without batting an eye, although Hollywood does not disdain the kind I buy, either.

DROUGHT RAVAGES CANADIAN WHEAT TERRITORY

Severe drought in portions of the Canadian wheat growing provinces has caused an advance in the price of wheat and will curtail Canadian exports. Senator Barkley Elected To Democratic Leadership In Upper House, 38 to 37 the president wants" almost unanimously supported Barkley.

Most of the older senators were lined up back of Harrison, who has served since 1918. Barkley first was elected in 1926.

Both senators have supported the Roosevelt administration on nearly every issue, including court reorganization. Harrison recently voted for economy in relief, while Barkley supported the administration request for an appropriation without strings attached.

Senator Harrison, following Barkley on the radio, said he had just congratulated the victor and said "we are all going to work for harmony in the Democratic party."

Barkley's Statement

Barkley gave out a brief statement saying:

"My policy is to be representative of the administration as well as the senate in working out to the best of my ability the problems that face the party, the administration and the country."

Up to the last ballot the two candidates were tied at 37 to 37, senators said.

The only absentee was Senator Bankhead, who went to his Jasper, Ala., home last week because of his wife's illness. Harrison supporters said he gave his proxy to the Mississippi.

In announcing the result Pittman called it "the most interesting and exciting election of a leader I have witnessed in 24 years."

"It was neck and neck until the last ballot," he said. "Senator Harrison with true sportsmanship asked for a unanimous ballot for Senator Barkley."

"Fight Together"

Harrison told Barkley:

"I congratulate you, old boy. We've got to fight together for the progress of our country and the success of the Democratic party."

"Thank you, Pat," Barkley replied. "We have been fighting together since the Wilson administration began in 1913, and this is the only occasion I can remember when our interests were separate."

It was the first contest for Democratic leader since Senator Robinson was elected in 1922.

Junior Stock Show To Be Held in October

Madison — October 25-28 has been chosen as the date for the annual Junior Livestock Exposition of the University of Wisconsin. Arlie Mucks of the animal husbandry department, in charge of the show, announced.

Held under the auspices of the Wisconsin Livestock Breeders association and the state university college of agriculture, the junior show attracts several hundred young exhibitors from all parts of the state. Factory Jobs and Pay Top Figures For Period in '29

Wages Higher in June Than at Any Time Since 1921, Report

Madison — The state industrial commission reported today the volume of factory employment and pay rolls in Wisconsin during April May and June this year was greater than in the comparable months of 1929, the pre-depression era.

Factory wages, the commission said, were higher in June than at any other time since 1921, excepting the year 1928.

Employment last month was 4.2 per cent greater than in June, 1929 and pay rolls were up 4.8 per cent.

The commission noted that for the first time on record—last August to March—the total of factory jobs and earnings showed substantial gains during the fall and winter months. Beginning in April and extending through June the job trend decreased slightly but the commission found this due largely to labor troubles in some cities.

More Jobs, Better Pay

Outstanding portions of the report.

Employment and pay rolls in June, 1937, were higher than June, 1936, by 14.2 per cent and 31.3 per cent respectively; higher than the 1932 depression low point by 67.9 and 182.6 higher than the 1932 depression low point by 67.9 and 182.6 per cent respectively.

In the city of Milwaukee factory employment increased 2.2 per cent and pay rolls 3.1 per cent between last May 15 and June 15. Other cities showing substantial gain during the same period: Ashland, Beaver Dam, Beloit, Chippewa Falls, Green Bay, Manitowoc, Rhinelander, Stevens Point and Wisconsin Rapids.

Rising Wages

Factory workers averaged $26.32 a week last month; $22.69 in June, 1936; $14.64 in June, 1932.

Present earnings, the commission said, represent more buying power since living costs have not risen to the pre-depression levels.

Cities where factory employees averaged high wages: Beloit, $24.40 a week; Green Bay, $27.05; Kenosha, $30.53; Madison, $27.25; Milwaukee, $28.64; Neenah-Menasha, $28.46; Racine, $31.25; Waukesha, $27.18; West Allis, $33.47.

Retail trade continued to expand as reflected by employment and pay roll gains, which also were shown in the building construction, highway and railroad construction industries.

Judgment allowing final account in the estate of James Chapman Strange, Menasha, valued at more than $12,000 was rendered in county court by Judge A. E. McDonald today. The estate consisted of $12,894.50 with claims of $2,934.54 and the residue of $9,959.96, the petition of Alexander T. Strange, Menasha, administrator, revealed.

Post-Crescent Madison Bureau
Madison—A youthful, quiet Oshkosh alderman represented the second Winnebago district, and for the last months the whole of Winnebago county in the 1937 legislature. Because of his intimate acquaintance with the problems of Oshkosh city government, gained through his work on the city council and as the mayor's assistant for several years, Mr. Niemuth was able to present the point of view of his home government to legislative committees and to the legislature itself.

Because he is a newcomer, and because he belongs to what is now a minority party, the Republican, Mr. Niemuth did not receive as much notice as many of his co-workers in the legislature. He introduced few bills and made few speeches. He had an almost perfect attendance record, however, a personal of the journal of the house shows, and made many appearances before house committees on important bills.

On Important Groups
Niemuth had the distinction during the past session of serving on the most important committee in the legislature, the joint committee on finance, of which he was the youngest member. There he toiled with a dozen other prominent lawmakers, three afternoons every week, over the myriad appropriation requests submitted by lawmakers eager to prove to their constituents that they were doing all possible for their home districts.

The most important product of that committee's work was the biennial budget bill, which, although the members pruned departmental requests rigidly, totaled more than $60,000,000, the highest in Wisconsin's history.

Proposals of Mr. Niemuth which were passed and signed by the governor, and are now on the state statutes include: authorization to city treasurers to appoint deputies in case of absence or vacancy; changing the time for fixing city officers' salaries from February to November; extending the time for making application for receiving aid under the state soldiers' rehabilitation fund; and deeding submerged lands in Miller's Bay, Oshkosh, to the city of Oshkosh for the construction of a pier and breakwater for navigation purposes.

He also introduced a bill which would have granted homestead exemptions up to $5,000 for applicants for old age assistance. This measure, duplicated by several other assemblymen, died because of early adjournment. Niemuth took over the soldiers' fund bill after Nels Larson, of Neenah, who originally introduced it, died.

Another measure, which would have authorized counties to appropriate money for the encouragement of new industries, was tabled by the assembly and subsequently withdrawn by Niemuth.

Niemuth also introduced and obtained unanimous passage of a resolution eulogizing the life and services of the late assemblyman Larson of the second Winnebago county district.

Two Park Board Members Differ On Expansion Plan

Banta Favors Enlargement And Gilbert Opposes Purchase

Menasha—Two members of the park board, George Banta, Jr., and T. M. Gilbert, differ in their views on the proposed expansion of Jefferson park by the addition of adjoining property now owned by the Menasha Woodware company, according to statements made public at last night's council meeting. In a letter to the council, the park board pointed out that the company is offering the No. 1 Log Track, composed of eight full lots facing Paris street, and eight part lots facing the Fox River, to the city of $10,000.

"This is the extreme west portion of land left along the river and is necessary for the completion of Jefferson park," the letter stated. "The board is of the opinion that the time to buy land... is at the present time, but they do not feel financially able to take care of this out of their budget."

Attached to this letter, were two others written by Banta and Gilbert, the first favoring the proposition and the second opposing it.

Buy It All
Banta wrote that he favored the purchase of No. 1 Log Track "in entirety", and that if that could not be done, the water front property at least should be added to the park.

He declared in the letter that he did not believe the city was devoting too much land for park purposes and suggested that citizens "compare the acreage with that in the cities of Appleton, Neenah, and Oshkosh and the money spent."

"We have been way behind with this matter and should not get cold feet in insisting upon laying aside of that property which will be necessary in the future," he wrote.

No Development
If the city does buy the property, Banta believes, however, that no action on developing it should be taken for some time. "We ought to concentrate energy on the Fifth ward park," he stated.

In regard to the proposed park additions, Gilbert's attitude is just the opposite, according to his letter. "It seems to me that the people of Menasha are tired of any more property for park purposes and are more interested in concrete results that will bring benefits for today," he declared.

Gilbert said that the "action of the city council definitely indicates that the park board has not the

Take No Action On Police Pension Plan at Kaukauna

Defer Passage Following Heated Debate on Ordinance

Kaukauna—Much discussed and several times sent back to the fire and police committee for revision, the police pension ordinance was again put aside after heated discussion in the adjourned meeting of the city council at the Municipal building last night.

Designed to correct the ordinance of 1928, which set up a police fund that is rapidly vanishing with the payment of only one pension, the new ordinance was introduced on the floor of the council by Alderman Theodore Seggelink, and each point of the new ordinance brought controversy and discussion from members of the council and all the spectators seated in the council chambers, as well as from the aldermen.

Mayor Lewis F. Nelson presided at his first council meeting last night, and opened it with a brief explanation of what he intended to do as mayor. The board of public works reported on the cost of the south side wading pool and on the sale of an old road roller for scrap iron.

Suggest Plan
Recommendation was made by the board that the operator and the other help who will be needed in running the new sewage disposal plant be hired by the utilities commission.

In his first talk to the council members Mayor Nelson said that he wanted to make Kaukauna the finest city in the Fox River valley. He asked cooperation from the council so that city business could be done efficiently.

"The aim of my administration," he added, "will be to provide jobs. There are already a few prospective operators for the Outagamie mill and for the Union Bag mill. That is encouraging to us."

Discussion on the police pension bill began as soon as Alderman Seggelink read the first section of the new ordinance, which provides for the amount of salary that each policeman shall pay into the fund. The present rate of 1 per cent is not enough to support the one pension being paid out at the present. It was said. Talk centered around 3 per cent, 2 per cent, and 5 per cent.

Urges 1 Per Cent
Chief of Police James McFadden, who was in the crowd at the meeting, spoke to the council in favor of maintaining the 1 per cent rate. "One per cent of the salary is all that is paid by policemen of other cities," McFadden said. "Why should we be penalized more than other cities' police are?"

Alderman Walter Cooper said that the favoring of 2 per cent, and Alderman Jule Mertes spoke for a 5 per cent rate. Seggelink then explained that one man drawing a pension of $75 a month could take from the fund in one year all that another man had put in the fund in 50 years, at the 1 per cent rate, and that it was impossible to maintain a stable fund at that rate.

Alderman Walter Kilgas told the council that policemen had told members of the fire and police commission that the 3 per cent rate was all right with them, but that they thought 5 per cent was too much.

Wants to Know Why
Chief McFadden said the old ordinance, under which the pension is now operating, has not cost the city a cent to date, and he again asked why Kaukauna police should pay more than other cities' officers do.

Mike Gerharz, chairman of the fire and police commission, said the commission did not want to meddle with this matter, but he pointed out that the federal social security act required only 1 per cent of the employees' pay.

Finally a compromise was reached when Cooper suggested that the rate continue at 1 per cent until the present fund is exhausted, but that from then on the rate be 5 per cent, and continue thus until the fund is stabilized.

The time of service required, 22 years, and the age limit of 60 years before the pension can be received, evoked some comment, but it ended quickly. The chief of police again spoke for his department, and said that the chance was very small that the ordinance, without restrictions, of the old ordinance, to the new ordinance which requires an age of 60 before pension was payable.

Sees Unfairness
"Some of the boys who begin at 25 will have to put in 35 years of duty before they are eligible," he said. "That is a long time."

"That is no hardship, for a man to work until he is 60," Cooper said. "I've worked that long already," a voice from the group said, and the discussion ended. Action on the bill was deferred until the next council meeting in August.

Adopt Proposal
The report of the board of public works recommended that the utilities commission select the operator and the superintendent and the help at sewage disposal plant, and the recommendation was adopted by the council.

Thirteen tons of scrap iron, consisting mostly of an old road roller, for which bids were received since the last council meeting when its

Meitner Squad Defeats Belongea Team 9 to 7

Meitner pitched his team to the victory and also got the long hit of the day, a triple to the left field wall. For the losers Steve Andrejki laid a double against the center field wall. Batteries for the losers were B. Matheis and S. Andrejki. H. Franz caught for Meitner.

A large group of spectators witnessed the league opener. In the junior league game played at the 60-foot library diamond, George Egan's team defeated Billy Mitchell's squad 21-12.

Each league has four teams. Besides the ones who played yesterday the other senior team are led by Sylvanus Grignon and George Hurst, the other junior teams by Don Reichel and Nick Steffen.

The city still had the forms, reinforcing wire and materials used in the construction, which are valued at $61.64. These materials can be used in the building of the north side wading pool, as soon as the site is determined. Building of the north side pool was prevented when people objected to the use of City park, Lawe street, as the site.

Merchants Win From Kappells In Extra Inning

Revamped South Side Team Breaks Tie With Five-Run Rally

Kaukauna—The revamped South Side Merchants slammed out five runs in an extra inning to break a tie with Kappells last night and win the first game of the second round of the twilight softball league in a contest played at the library diamond.

Tonight's battle will bring together the new team in the league, the Ritz Taverns, and Thilmany mill, second place, outfit in the first round.

With the count tied at 10-all at the end of the seventh, the Merchants went into the extra inning to gather six hits, which with the help of an error netted them five runs and the ball game as the entire team took a turn at bat.

The Merchants scored heavily in the early innings, getting two in the first and five in the second and amassing a total of 10 by the fourth. Kappells came back in the late innings, however, to score three in the sixth and two in the seventh and knot the count.

Last place team in the first round of play, the Merchants combined with the Rennie outfit, which dropped out of the league, to build a formidable ball club. Last night they gathered 17 hits from the offerings of Paul Balgie and drew five walks. Kappells connected safely 10 times from the pitcher's Sherman Powers, who walked 11 while he was having some difficulty in controlling his fast one.

"International goodwill and understanding were the main objectives of the convention," he said. Most of the business was transacted in English while translations were provided for addresses in foreign languages, according to Mr. Hagman.

A total of 18 enactments were proposed for legislation with two being rejected, six withdrawn and ten adopted, he concluded.

Clintonville Nine to Play at Kaukauna Thursday

Joe Petcka and Gretzinger on
Invaders' SquadManager Bowers of Kaws
Nominates Brokup for Mound Duty

KAUKAUNA — Kaukauna and Fox river valley baseball fans will get a chance to observe baseball as played in the Wolf River Valley league here Thursday night when Clintonville's Trunkers invade the city. The game is scheduled at 8:30.

Clintonville, with one of the best light plants in this section, is thoroughly familiar with night ball having showed in several games this season at home, New London and at Green Bay. The club led the Wolf Valley loop for a long time but stumbled and finished the first half the season among the also rans.

The invaders are expected to show either Jim Huffman or Walter Raasch on the mound. The former hurled the club to a 6 to 0 win over Wega allowing the losers only five hits. Raasch pitched a win over Leopolds a week ago or so. He formerly was with Bondell and is looked upon by the Clints to lead them out of the also ran column during the second half of the season.

Petcka With Team
A couple of well-known performers with the Trunkers are Joe Petcka, who showed with Kaukauna for a time this spring, and who favors for Green Bay now and then, and "Slat" Gretzinger who used to show for the Bays. Petcka plays in the outfield and "Slat" works at third base. Against Wega, Petcka got a home run.

Others on the Trucker squad are Schnorr, left fielder, Palmer, short and a consistent hitter, Schmidtke, first base, Elant, second base, Bushberger, center field, and "Gaby" Smith, catcher.

Manager Howard Bowers of the Kaws has decided to use Abe Brokup, youthful hurler from Menasha, on the mound Thursday night. Brokup hurled in the Northern Valley circuit last season and recently joined the Kaws. He is a right hander. Garvenow won't be used because he may have a tough assignment Sunday.

Other members of the Kaws team probably will be the same men who showed Sunday night against Kimberly. Eggert will show at first, Joe Vilis probably will take over the second station again seeing he did so well against the Papermakers, Hammy Powell will show at short and Zelinski at third.

The outfield may show changes depending on the pitching. However, Kappell in left, Bowers in center and Radder in right have been hitting regularly and there may be no need for a change.

Niblicks Lead Scoring
In Twilight Golf Loop

Niblicks scored the most points in Twilight Golf league at the Riverview Country club course yesterday. The Trunkers retained the league lead by scoring enough points to remain in front by a 2-point lead. The Niblicks scored 201 points. Members of the team are Roy Marston, Dr. Ray Perschbacher, Dr. A. E. Rector and Charles Seaborn. Members of the Dynamiters are William Rounds, R. H. Furdy, Dr. J. L. Benton and N. de C. Walker.

Niblicks jumped from eighth place in the standings to sixth and were awarded prizes for their showing.

The standings:

Points	Team
141	Dynamiters
139	Midlowns
135	Mashies
129	Jagers
128	Niblicks
124	Drivers

Maple Bluff Will Pay Off
On Short Shots to Green

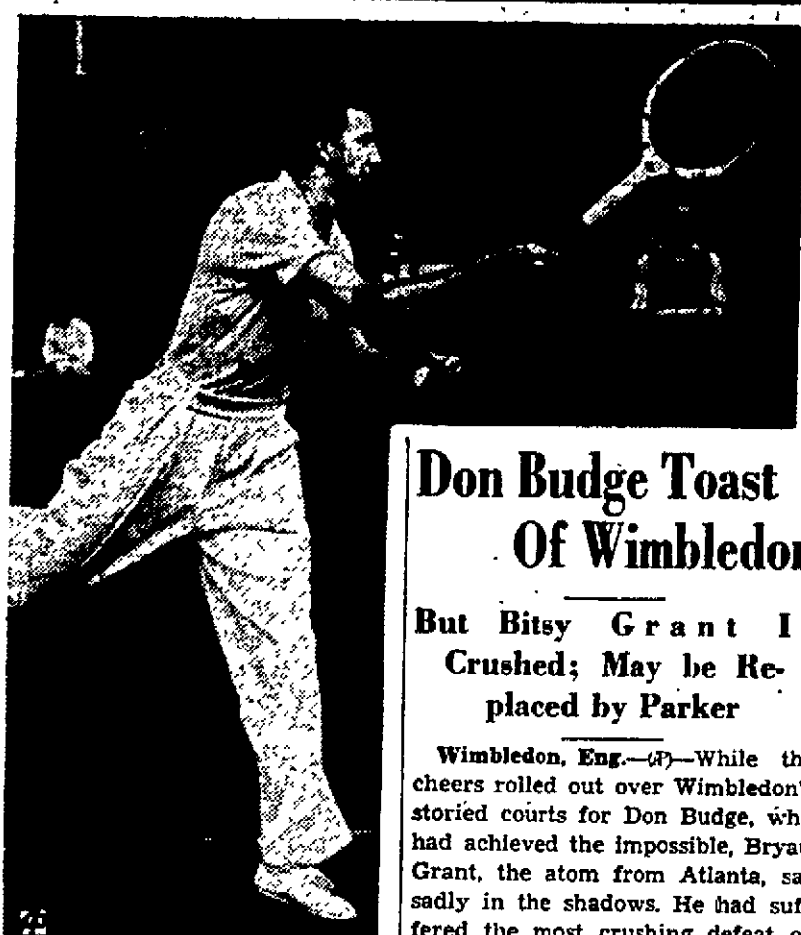

Editor's Note—This is the second of a series of short stories on the state amateur golf tournament to be held at Maple Bluff July 28-31.

MADISON —(7)—Maple Bluff, where the annual state amateur golf scramble begins July 28, will pay dividends to the golfer who has his shots to the pin in working order.

The small, well-trapped greens probably will prove to be difficult targets to hit with long woods and the payoff most likely will come on accuracy in short shots to the pin.

Long hitters, who occasionally drift off the line, are not apt to encounter difficulty on most holes, as several fairways run parallel.

The course par is 37-39-72. Some greens are elevated, most of them are rolling. Many local golfers expect those seeking the title to find it harder to par the first, fourth and eleventh holes than any of the oth-

Don Budge Toast
Of WimbledonBut Bity Grant Is Crushed; May Be Replaced by Parker

Wimbledon, Eng.—(7)—While the cheers rolled out over Wimbledon's storied courts for Don Budge, who had achieved the impossible, Bryan Grant, the atom from Atlanta, sat sadly in the shadows. He had suffered the most crushing defeat of his career.

Budge had beaten Baron Gottfried von Cramm, 6-8, 5-7, 6-4, 6-2, 8-6, to win the inter-zone finals for the United States Davis cup team and send it into the challenge round against England.

Grant had lost to Heinrich Henkel, 7-5, 2-6, 6-3, 6-4.

For Bity Grant it was the big chance. In past years, when he had not been chosen for the team, the little man with the knobby legs had made vociferous complaint to the powers that be on the tennis Olympus. Chosen at last he went abroad with high hopes but dropped both his matches and put upon Budge and Gene Macko the full burden of staying off the German bid for a shot at the cup.

The defeats, first by Von Cramm and then by Henkel, may mean more than just the loss of two matches for Bity. Fresh and confident, Frankie Parker, of Milwaukee, came into the sidelines for a chance at Davis cup glory. Walker L. Pate, non-playing captain of the American team, may pick him for the second singles job against England and send Grant to the sidelines.

Grant was so disheartened by his defeat that he moaned "I turned yellow" and talked of quitting.

Chicago —(7)—Anyone who can turn out a 72-hole total of 284 strokes over the Medinah Country club's number one and three courses Friday, Saturday and Sunday, says Harry Cooper, can win himself the $3,000 first prize in Chicago's $16,000 open golf tournament.

"Light Horse Harry," a terror in big money tournaments who has won around $9,000 since the first of the year, should have a pretty good idea of what will do it, for the Medinah layouts are among his favorites. He never has lost on official competition over the courses and figures 284 should be good enough.

Cooper is the reigning favorite, at 8 to 1, to keep his Medinah winning streak alive. The national open titleholder, big Ralph Guldahl, is listed at 10 to 1, with Sam Snead, who finished runnerup to Guldahl in the open, and Henry Picard quoted at 12 to 1.

While the professionals are shooting for the biggest medal play of the season, the amateur division may produce an unusually lively tussle. The Simon pure favorite is Fred Haas, Jr., of New Orleans, holder of the national intercollegiate, southern amateur and Canadian crowns.

Tommy Farr Says He Will Stop Joe Louis

New York —(7)—Tommy Farr, heavyweight champion of the British empire, arrived yesterday to begin training for his title fight with Joe Louis, the American champion, in the Yankee Stadium, Aug. 26.

Farr, weighing 208, looked in prime condition. He expects to begin work at Long Branch, N. J., within the next few days.

"I'll whip this fellow sure," Farr said. "I've fought nine Negroes in my time and knocked all of them out in less than four rounds."

Charles (Sonny) Schreiber, winner of the Northeastern Wisconsin title last year, has been blasting par at his Oshkosh course recently and is regarded as a serious threat. Another youth who has been doing great lately is Jimmy Lohr of Sheboygan. Butch Reimer, also of Sheboygan, likewise is regarded as a threat.

Lyndon Lardner, Oconomowoc, winner of the recent Milwaukee district tournament, Knox Moore of Green Lake and Bob Testwilde of Sheboygan, are others to be reckoned with.

Merits of Speeding
Up Baseball Debated
After Florida Game

Gainesville, Fla.—(7)—There was plenty of debate today on the merits of "streamlined" baseball but no one questioned that it proved its speed in its professional debut.

Gainesville defeated Leesburg, 2-1, in a Florida State league game last night with only one hour and 10 minutes required for the play.

"Streamlined" baseball proved itself," said Manager Bob McShane of Gainesville, "and professional baseball will do well to look into it."

Frank S. Wright, University of Florida public relations man, drew up the new rules, which forbid the between-outs "throw around" eliminates preliminary pitching, puts ball and strike penalties on stalling, calls for inning changes at double-quick and provides for immediate substitute of pitchers and catchers when they become base runners. Pitchers warm up before the dugout, but there is no preliminary pitching from the mound.

Chicago —(7)—The American association leadership, so hot lately no team has been able to hold it for more than a few days at a time, belonged to Minneapolis again today.

Donie Bush's club squeezed back into the driver's seat last night by clouting Danny Boone and Newell Kimball for 13 hits and a 9 to 4 victory over Milwaukee, while Columbus was losing a 4 to 1 decision to the up and coming Indianapolis Indians.

Johnny Peacock led the Miller attack on the Brewer pair with two home runs.

Columbus outlived Indianapolis, 9 to 7, but Pat McLaughlin kept the Red Birds hits apart and might have had a shutout except for two errors which helped the 3 losers to their lone run in the third.

Toledo remained close up in the leadership scramble by trimming Louisville, 7 to 5. The Mud Hens collected 10 hits off Fred Shaffer and Jim Peterson, while Dizzy Trout and the veteran, Fred Marberry, yielded nine. Marberry who took over in the third, gave up only three hits and was credited with the victory.

Joe Vance, who held Milwaukee to one hit last Friday, was no puzzle to St. Paul and the Saints made it two straight over Kansas City, 11 to 5. The Saints slammed Vance for 16 hits, including a homer, double and single by Willis Norman, who drove in four runs.

County Leaguers to Discuss 2 Problems

Hortonsville—Outagamie County league baseball representatives will gather here tonight to discuss the situation regarding the Hortonville entry in the loop and the first round playoff.

The Hortonville team was unable to play its last two games because men were working in the canning factory. Opponents claimed forfeits. The Hortonville club now is ready to resume play and has asked reconsideration of the two games. The Dale-Shiocton playoff also is a problem. Dale is willing to play but Shiocton isn't so keen at the moment. Reports are that three games may be played with one in each town on a Sunday morning and the third decided on the flip of a coin.

MILWAUKEE —(7)—Mrs. Lucille Robinson Mann of the Blue Mound club, medalist, led a field of golfers from three state cities today into the quarter-final round of the Wisconsin Women's Golf association championship.

Mrs. Mann scored 37, three under par, on the first nine holes at the Westmoor club course as she eliminated Mrs. A. D. Blumenshine of Green Lake, yesterday, 4 and 3. Mrs. Mann registered a medalist 78 in the 18-hole qualifying test Monday.

Goldie Bateson, Westmoor, defending champion, defeated Mrs. Elizabeth Maisson, Nakoma, 6 and 5, to enter the round of eight with Mrs. Mann.

Other quarter-finalists:
Alice Ann Anderson, Kenosha, who beat Paula Parker, Westmoor, 3 and 2; Marion Callahan of Madison, victor over Miss Janet Basche, Milwaukee, 3 up in a match which saw 13 holes halved; Marie Riemer, Blue Mound, who eliminated Merle Nickles of Madison, 2 up; Frances Hadfield, Blue Mound, who won from Mary Gardner, Beloit, 6 and 5; Joan Tharinger, Westmoor, who defeated Mrs. Karl Luetke, Green Lake, 3 and

Yanks Take Two From Browns; Sox And Tigers Win

Giants Cop and Move Up On Rained Out Chicago Cubs

BY BILL BONT Associated Press Sports Writer TRYING to catch the galloping Yankees these days is about as hopeful a task as trying to keep up with Gar Wood in a one-lung outburst. But you can't rule the White Sox or the Tigers off the track for trying, and both of them are trying.

The Sox, probably inspired by the smoke from Manager Jimmy Dykes' big black cigars, have won six in a row to maintain their place as runners-up to the champions, now six and a half games in front after drubbing the Browns in both ends of a double-header yesterday.

The Tigers, encouraged by the promising recovery of Manager Mickey Cochrane, who for the first time since his injury put on a uniform during his team's morning workout yesterday, have won five straight since handing the Yanks the lone setback of their current road trip.

Both have been having fairly even pickings the last few days. The Sox caught first the Red Sox and now the Senators in the throes of a losing streak, making it ten defeats in a row for the Nats yesterday with a 4-3 triumph in ten innings. Thornton Lee gave up ten hits but fanned eight in hanging up his fifth triumph.

The Red Sox aren't proving too tough for the Tigers, either. The Hub crew was up in second place last week, but has hit the skids again, that ten-inning 10-9 licking by Detroit being its fifth in a row.

Foxs Hits 2 Homers Even the fact that Jimmy Foxs chimed in with two homers, his nineteenth and twentieth, and that Colonel Mills and Eric McNair came up with one each couldn't save the Sox.

The extra-inning virus even affected the Yanks, who won the opener from the Browns in the tenth, 5-4, then belted for St. Louis flinger for eleven hits to win the night-cap, 9-6. Joe Di Maggio's twenty-fifth homer, with two on, was the big blow in the first game, but shared importance with Tom Henrich's peg from right field that completed a double play after the Browns got three men on with only one out in the tenth.

The other American league game saw George Caster to the route while his fellow Athletics batted 15 hits off four Cleveland pitchers to win, 7-5.

The Giants, climbing back to within half a game of the rained-out Cubs, and the Dodgers, recovering from four straight trimmings by Chicago, also needed ten innings to win. Cliff Melton held the Reds to five hits as the Terrymen won 4-3, their eighteenth victory by a one-run margin against nine defeats, and Max Butcher earned the Pirates with eight safeties to give Brooklyn a 3-1 decision.

The Cardinals, striking veteran Guy Bush on one of his better before, threw in a few misplays of their own and bowed to the Bees, 5-3.

Name Elks Team For Golf Tourney

Northeastern Lodge Members Will Gather at Green Bay Friday

Appleton Elks club golfers will invade Oneida Golf and Riding club course at Green Bay Friday in large numbers for the annual district Elks golf tournament. Last year the meet was held at Sheboygan with Appleton having one of the largest delegations.

The purpose of the meet is to qualify three 5-man teams for the state tournament which will be held at Butte des Morts, Aug. 5. Each lodge may enter as many teams as it wishes in district play but Butte des Morts has selected only one. It will show Ralph McGowan and Dave Barber, August Brandt, Heber Peckey and Dan Steinberg, Jr.

Any golfer who wishes to compete for individual honors in the state tournament, also will have to qualify by showing in the district meet. Green Bay Elks have contributed $100 worth of golf equipment prizes and another $100 worth of prizes will be offered for good golf.

All Elks from lodges in the northeastern section of the state are eligible to enter. The entry fee will be $2 and includes green fees, prizes and refreshments. The district includes Fond du Lac, Green Bay, Oshkosh, Sheboygan, Appleton, Kaukauna, Antigo, Menasha, Manitowish, Oconto, Kaukauna, Marinette and Two Rivers.

An innovation at the district meet this year will be a senior tournament for golfers over 45 years of age.

Neither Silent Henry nor Dour Denny spoke a word until the end of the match, when Denny congratulated the Briton. . . . Cotton doesn't smile much, either. . . . His first smile in weeks came when he was given the trophy symbolic of victory in the British Open just before his match with Shute. . . . Some have called Cotton the greatest golfer in history. His favorite shot is a drive into the wind. . . . At Carnoustie, Scotland, in the Open, Cotton drove in and through a strong wind and a driving rain to come from behind on the last round. . . . But at Walton Heath his putting was uncanny. . . . In defeating Shute, he trimmed the U. S. P. G. A. champion of 1936 and of 1937. . . . In winning the Open, he licked the entire U. S. Ryder cup team. . . . Cotton was born at Holmes Chapel, Cheshire, England, January 16, 1907. . . . He turned professional at 17. . . . He became pro at Waterloo, Brussels, in 1933, staying until 1936. . . . His golf pupils include many from Europe's royal houses. . . . He won an Argentine open in 1930, the Belgian Open in 1930 and

'34, the Italian Open in 1936. . . . He was runnerup in the French and German Opens in 1936, also. . . . He won the British Open in 1934, but the field wasn't so tough as this year's. . . . Cotton has made a hole-in-one. . . . For winning the "world's match play championship" he received a prize of $2,000. . . . Shute, who placed second in the 2-man masher marathon, received enough to buy a ticket home.

'Sour Grapes,' British Writers Sling at U. S.

LONDON.—British golfers snarled and burned with righteous indignation today after reading reports that the United States Ryder cup players had accused galleries of spying them the "bum's rush" at Carnoustie and Southport.

Henry Cotton, who whipped the Americans for the British open title, said he was "astounded" at the charges.

"It's disgusting," said Alf Padgham.

British golfing writers thought it was a case of sour grapes, attributing the outburst to the American's failure at Carnoustie, scene of the British open.

"It's a definite lie," he exploded. "That ball hit a ridge back of the green and bounced back. It's all hokey."

A. J. Lacey, who was trimmed by Henry Picard in the Ryder cup singles, cracked hard at Ralph Guldahl, American open champion who was one of the bitterest of the homecoming golfers over what he called "poor British sportsmanship."

"Perhaps it would be a good thing if he doesn't come back," Lacey remarked. "I thought he was a rather difficult fellow especially when things were going against him."

American golf writers, however, claim a boisterous Lancashire crowd did give the American Ryder cuppers a rather "rough passage" the second day of the match, as at Southport when the singles were decided.

State League Notes

KAUKAUNA chalked up its second straight victory in the closing lap of the Northern State league pennant chase at Kimberly, Sunday night, when they slapped down the Papermakers by a score of 12 to 3 before an enthusiastic crowd.

The Electric City hardly hit their weight during the early part of the season but in recent games they have been pounding the nugget all over the lot. Bowers and company collected 20 bingles off the Kimberly mound artists.

Radder, the Wisconsin university star, is coming through with bells on for Kaukauna. He has just started to get the "feel" of the pitchers and a lot of his arm flying off his bats while his left fielding is way above par.

Getting to Johnny Rowe when bingles meant runs, Two Rivers sent the Green Sox home on the short end of a 4 to 2 score. Both teams were on their toes and they battled each other plenty and even took "picks" on both umpires.

Andy Fortin, the Cool City hurler, had plenty on the ball. As a matter of fact, several of the Green Sox who swung in vain, gave the horsehide the once over in an attempt to see what the veteran portside was doing with it.

Two twin killings, Raab to Stan Smogolick, nipped a couple of promising Green Sox rallies. In both double plays, Raab scooped ground balls, touched the base runner en route and then tossed to the initial station for Futout No. 2.

Manitowoc got back on victory row by nipping Little Chute in a well pitched game by the score of 12 to 2. Lefty Sorrell scored the winning run in the eighth. Both clubs played brilliant ball on the defensive.

Little Chute got nine bingles off P. Rosinsky while Weisberger, the Chute's hurler, only allowed the Ships' a half dozen. The Lamers' brothers hogged the batting honors as Bill got three hits and Catcher Jack a couple.

Joe Vnuik, the Northern State batting leader, has found the Northern State pitchers a bit tougher in his last two games. Against Kaukauna, the Ships' veteran got one out of four. He got none in two against Little Chute.

Manager Vanderloop of Little Chute had a juggle like his infield again as Eddie Leopold who was a fixture at second base, went to Wausau for another try at everyday ball. Ellis who played the middle bag, did not get a safety.

Shorty Zuidmuller's trick knee is getting no better fast and it is feared that the sterling first sacker of the Green Sox will have to lay off until the injury heals. He had lots of trouble in the game at Two Rivers.

Dame Rumor has it that several American association scouts are paying considerable attention to Ham Powell, the Kaukauna shortstop. The youngster is fielding like a big leaguer and his hitting is of the timely variety.

Joy rules supreme in the Marty Lamers' clan again as the two, Bill and Jack, who are playing with Little Chute, have been knocking the cover off the ball recently and they are both up there in the select 300 swatting class.

Baseball scribes around the Northern State league circuit are singing the praises of Horn, the Kimberly third sacker. Horn handles ground balls with the greatest of ease and he rifles the ball to first at bullet-like speed.

Rosinsky, the Manitowoc shortstop, does like night ball. The youngster has a Dickens of a time in the Ships' recent game at Kaukauna and, after missing a couple, he walked off the diamond in disgust at his futile efforts to field.

Clintonville Tips Marion by 9 to 1

Both Teams Try Out New Players in Effort to Strengthen Squads

Clintonville.—Marion was an easy victim of the Clintonville ball club here last night, dropping a 9 to 1 non-league starlight game. Clintonville scored a run in the second inning, was tied in the third and put on a 5-run spurge in the fourth to make the outcome certain. The FWD squad added a run in the fifth, seventh and eighth frames.

Both teams tried out new players. Marion using M. Sousek and V. Sousek. The Sousek boys took turns on the mound and M. Sousek also showed in the shortstop position. Clintonville used Tomlin, a pitcher, and Korten, a third baseman. Both players are from Green Bay. Tomlin struck out four batters and walked one in two innings. He also hit a triple.

Schmidtke sacked a home run for the winners, but the circuit "out" came when the bags were empty.

Clintonville will travel to Kaukauna for a night game Thursday night and Kaukauna will play at Clintonville on July 28. Shawan will show under the lights here Sunday.

Indian Youth Arrested On Charge of Forgery

Clintonville.—Baptist Stevens, a 21-year-old Indian, was taken to Waupaca Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Ray Abrahamson of this city after the youth pleaded guilty to a charge of forgery before Justice E. E. Larson here. Bond was set at $1,000, which Stevens was unable to furnish. It is expected that he will be bound over to circuit court.

Stevens was apprehended north of Sturgeon Bay by Deputy Abrahamson and returned to Clintonville for his hearing.

On July 4, it is alleged, the youth had cashed a check for $25 at the Merritt Delvin filling station in Embarrass, Delvin later discovered that the check had been raised from 25 cents to $25. The 25-cent check was one which had been issued by William A. Dahlk of the state motor vehicle division as a refund.

Farr Has an Ancient Tradition to Conquer

BY JOE WILLIAMS New York.—For better or worse, Tommy Farr, the heavyweight champion of Great Britain, arrives from the other side today for a spot of mischievous rough house with the American champion, Joe Louis, here in August.

Mr. Farr arrives under a faint cloud of horizontalism which has long been associated with British heavyweight champions and despite the success he has had in recent months against a string of slatternly Americans on his home grounds, his exact status as a fighter is still controversial.

To have out-stabbed the ancient Loughran, out-stumbled the defunct Baer and flattened the mediocre Neusel—the latter being accused of taking the easy way out—is scarcely enough to stamp the graduate corner man from Wales as a blood sweating, fire snorting hell cat.

But then you never can tell. The run of European heavyweights is somewhat better than in the stuffy days of Glass Jaw Wells, Collapsible Beckett and Swooning Scott. It used to be that the mere mention of a foreign heavyweight was sufficient to evoke gales of derisive laughter. Then Max Schmeling came along.

Home Economics Club Meets at Hehling Home

Maple Creek.—The Golden Hill Home Economics club had its picnic for the club members and their families Sunday at the farm home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hehling at Nicholson. Mrs. Hehling was a former member. Seventy persons attended dinner and supper on the spacious porch of the farm home. Ice cream and lemonade also were served during the afternoon. Games and contests were held and prizes were won by Mrs. Hehling, Mrs. Paul Firmanich, Mrs. Elmer Klug, Berdella Hanke, Mrs. Leo Bleck, Ruth Wainer, Perry Cornelius, Ora Hintz, Delfred Hanke, Mesdames P. E. Cornelius, George Pribner and Ray Anson were on the entertainment committee.

Owing to a death of a relative, Mrs. Alvin Kussor substituted for Mrs. Anson. Mesdames Paul Firmanich, Peter Scheller and Elmer Kluge had charge of the social part of the program. The meetings of this club have been discontinued until Sept. 7.

Victor Handschke was surprised Sunday evening at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Handschke. Cards were played and prizes went to Mesdames George Knapp and Arnold Ziechert, and Messers Robert Handschke and Albert Klug, after which lunch was served.

Mrs. Harvey Hebbe entertained at a dancing party at Pleasant View pavilion Sunday evening in honor of their tenth wedding anniversary.

In view of the fact that Mr. Farr is an unknown quantity as far as American rings go, and as yet untested, his opponent of current distinction, he is

BY VICTOR EUBANK

New York—(AP)—The stock market drifted down fractions to a point or more in leisurely trading today. Brokers said the decline resulted from mild offerings attracted by the current rise in prices. U. S. Steel, recent leader on the advance, opened more than a point lower on a turnover of 2,000 shares and continued heaviness in this issue served in some measure to set the tone of trading despite an abortive midday rally in rails, motors and specialties. Although motors retained a fair amount of resistance with the aid of a rise in Chrysler at one time to a new top for the move, carter and specialties were ragged in late dealings. Chrysler met late selling. Transactions approximated 950,000 shares. Losers were U. S. Steel, Bethlehem, Republic, U. S. Rubber, Deere, Oliver Farm Equipment, Western Union, Electric Power and Light, Anaconda, American Smelting, Armour of Illinois, Westinghouse, Ohio Oil, Texas Corp., Pennsylvania, Northern Pacific, Paramount, Kennecott, International Nickel, Montgomery Ward, General Electric and Union Pacific. Resistant shares were Motor Products, Goodyear, Cerro de Pasco, American Can, Du Pont, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Southern Pacific.

Bullish Domestic Spring Crop Estimates are Primary Factor

BY JOHN P. BROUGHAN
Associated Press Market Editor
Chicago—(AP)—Highest prices to date in wheat, up 14 cents, were scored in late dealings, with attention largely focused on bullish domestic spring crop estimates.

Current official forecasts were for only 100,000,000 bushels to 125,000,000 bushels total yield of 1937 spring wheat in the United States. The government July 1 prediction was 150,000,000 bushels for the four leading spring wheat states, and 218,000,000 for the country as a whole.

At the close, wheat was 1-1/2 above yesterday's finish, Sept. 1.22 1/2. Dec. 1.24 1/2. Corn varying from 1/4 cent down to 1/4 cent up, Sept. 1.03 1/2-1.06. Dec. 76 1/2-77, and oats at 1/2 decline to 1 advance.

Today and Tomorrow

BY WALTER LIPPMAN

On Dividing the Moon

Lippman

There is an old legend of two peasants who were watching the moon rise and wondering how large it is. "It is very large," said the one, "as large as all the hands of the great lord in the castle."

"I should like to own it," said the other peasant, "and if I did, I should be very generous with you, and give you the half of it for you and your son's sons."

"Which half would you give me?" the first peasant asked. "Why, the western half," said the second. "But I would rather have the eastern half."

"That is impossible—that is for me and my sons." And so they argued about the division of the moon, growing ever more angry, until at last the first peasant rose up and shouted that his neighbor was trying to steal his land. Whereupon, his neighbor, having been called a thief, turned on him and slew him.

This parable might be studied with profit by the Democratic caucus which is about to select Senator Robinson's successor, and perhaps it decide the fate of the Democratic party. For the Democratic party has got itself into a murderous feud over the question of whether Mr. Roosevelt is going to be able to pretend that he owns the moon and is able to divide it as he sees fit.

This question is called the question of his prestige. And such is the capacity of men to delude themselves when they are thwarted and angry—there are otherwise intelligent men who believe that Mr. Roosevelt will have his "leadership" if he carries the judiciary bill by one or two votes, and will not have "leadership" if he does not.

This notion is not one whit less absurd than that of the peasant who thought his neighbor was stealing his half of the moon. Suppose, for example, that Mr. Roosevelt cajoled and coerced fifty Senators into carrying out his will. There will remain not merely the embittered minority of forty-six, determined to check him at the first opportunity, but perhaps ten, maybe twenty "supporters" who have been humiliated by being compelled to vote his way, who will be looking for the first favorable opportunity to re-establish their own self-respect by snuffing out his independence.

What possible good, measured in terms of "prestige" or "leadership," would such a victory be? Mr. Roosevelt seems to have forgotten completely the difference between leadership and dictation, to have forgotten that a leader must persuade and must win support, and that dictation simply will not work in a free country. No leader can afford to override the deepest conviction of more than half of a popular assembly unless he is willing to go further and suppress the opposition. The choice has to be made: either to persuade or to suppress the dissenters.

Roosevelt Makes No Effort To Persuade

But what is Mr. Roosevelt doing? He moves no effort to persuade. He is unable to convince. Yet he seeks to compel. That is the greatest folly that a leader can commit—to compel unconvinced men whom he is unable to suppress.

Franklin D. Roosevelt became a national figure in the embittered Democratic convention of 1924. Amidst that factional war he emerged into fame because to the wary and heartless delegates he embodied the spirit of decency and their hope of peace. It was then that his political star rose. What an incredibly tragic farce it would be if the man who more than any one else counted the Democratic party should now be the man who divides it three more.

Yet that is what he is doing, and ugly passions which he once knew so well how to avert, are now the first to provoke.

Employers Must File Reports for First Six Months

Inspectors Checking on Social Security Act Regulations

Employers are required to file a summary report by July 31 at the office of the collector of internal revenue at Milwaukee of the wages paid employees during the first six months of 1937 and the amount forwarded in accordance with the Social Security act from January through June. Stephen Balliet, postmaster, said today.

The 6-months report is required of all employers hiring more than one person and non-receipt of necessary blanks is not considered an adequate excuse by Social Security administrative officials, he continued. Inspectors are working throughout the state and have been making a survey of Appleton employers to check on delinquencies.

5 Per Cent Penalty

A penalty of 5 per cent is levied on taxable wages each month if reports are not filed or account numbers have not been secured. The monthly report for June must accompany the semi-annual report and the blanket statements will be due quarterly in the future, Mr. Balliet continued.

Corresponding with the summary statement must be an individual report for each employee indicating the length of period, employee's account number, his name, taxable wages paid and date left service of company if no longer employed.

Mr. Balliet said duplicate account numbers can be secured by making application at the post office if individuals have lost their cards. He said the numbers were indispensable as a means of identification when attempting to cash checks in strange territory or in the event of an accident rendering the person helpless.

MURDER ON THE BLUFF

this was the girl that Michael wanted to marry. Violently I wished that my slow wits had been able to devise something quick and conclusive in place of my slow, questionable scheme.

I was banking desperately on the Skipper's evidence. Briefly, I had reasoned that if one of the servants was the culprit, the Skipper's evidence added to the circumstantial chain which I had built up against them, would be all that was necessary. However, if a member of the Skipper's family or a person who might shortly become a member of it was guilty, the Skipper would lie, and it would be necessary for someone else to prove their guilt.

Going back over the scene of the finding of Higgins' body, I had realized that not Michael, Gay or M. Farrington could possibly have seen the body as it lay on the bed. Annie and William had been standing in the doorway, completely blocking off their view. Consequently, if any one of them knew in what position both the body and the gun had been found, that person was the murderer.

I intended to ask each one in turn to help me prove that Higgins was a suicide. The murderer had had plenty of time to ponder over his or her blunders. Therefore, if any one of the three could reconstruct the scene of the crime, satisfying in full all of its peculiar circumstances, that person was the person I wanted. If not, we had simply to wait until the Skipper was well enough to tell her story.

We Hunt The Bullet

"Jimmie! What ails you? Are you sick?" I shook my head to clear it. "No," I said, "just tired. Listen. We'll have to send for the police as soon as someone gets here from shore. And there's something wrong with this. If Higgins killed himself in here, the bullet ought to be here. It's the first thing the police will look for. And I can't find it anywhere."

"Hmmm," said Gay slowly. "That's so." She paused a moment and then her face brightened. "Well, look! He must have been either standing by the bed or sitting on it. If he was standing, the bullet ought to be in the door. If he was sitting, it must be in the wall above or behind the bed. The darned thing could have gone right between those iron bars."

She was assuming that Higgins had used his right hand, and that there was nothing peculiar about the wounds in his head. Hedging for time, I examined the door carefully, felt along the wall above the bed, and even moved the bed to look at the dusty surface behind it.

"That's funny," I said. "I had some thinking to do. 'Wait,' I grunted, moving the bed back into place. 'Let me think. Yes, of course! The door was open!'

If there was anything in her face but an unflattering opinion of my intelligence, I couldn't see it. "Then the thing must be in the hall, you say," she said scornfully. I followed her into the hall and examined the wall solemnly. My head wouldn't seem to clear. I had the impression that my bright little scheme was flopping.

Gay's face was worried. "This is ridiculous, Jim. It must be here!"

"Was she acting? I played my last card. 'Good Lord! Am I a lunkhead! The old boy was left-handed.'"

Sincere or feigned, there was plenty of disgust in the look she leeled at me. Perhaps I was glib, but at that moment I was sure that my information meant nothing to Gay Palmer.

Congress Hears Bible Limits Its Authority

Washington—(AP)—Representative Sirovich of New York has admonished house colleagues that the Bible forbids "any congressman from destroying the holy bonds of matrimony."

He quoted from the Scriptures in support of a bill that would give immigration officials limited authority to set aside deportation orders against aliens where hardships might be caused American born wives and children. Sirovich contends if the bill is not passed many alien families will be broken up.
